Richland Rebels

mixing it up

Music. Indefinable by words alone. It is not only something we hear, but what we feel. It is something our soul can reach out and touch. It originates from all over the world since time began. Complex or simple, fast or slow, loud or soft. It is what we experience, or it could be our method of escape, or it could just keep us alive. From the very first down beat in the fall, to the triumphant crescendo of celebratory praise at graduation in the spring, the 2011-2012 school year at Richland High School flowed along like a unique collection of tunes we may have on our MP3, iPod or maybe on our favorite mix CD burned for us by a dear friend. Over 2200 students provided their own beats, rhythms, melodies, and voices that mixed at just the right levels and provided a colorful playlist of memories. This year was about taking the soundtrack of our lives, song by song, and Mixing it Up, Rebel style.

Hit play and turn it up...

summer

Summer has always been a wonderful time for Rebels to play in the sand, camp with their family, or just hang out with their friends. With the hottest temperatures on record since 1980, Texas received almost double the amount of days at or above the 100 degree mark than usual. In fact, 46 days out of the summer topped the century mark however, this did not beat the summer of 1980, when temperatures soared passed 100 almost 70 days. To beat the heat, Rebels found plenty of ways to stay cool, whether it be at Six Flags, the water park, the lake, or out of state.

What is your idea of a perfect date?

"First, she's gotta be funny. No one likes a dull girlfriend. A perfect date would consist of hanging out at the mall, then watching a movie, and then going back home and cuddling. Then, you desperately try to convince her parents to allow her to stay out a bit later because the worst part is when you have to say goodbye and drop her off. At that point all the fun and love is held off until the next date."

-Jesus Rodriguez-12

- Lisa Barnett-12
and Chance Bowman-12

"The perfect date happens when almost nothing goes as planned. When you plan what you'll do there's no room to be spontaneous. If the guy is new to you, having nothing really set in stone gives you a chance to show him your true self and what things you think are interesting and fun. The best attitude to have is to always go with your first instinct. Take risks, have some real fun, and do something unexpected!"

"everybody's working for the weekend" student jobs by Louerboy

Many students aim to become more self-reliant during their high school years. And, along with the newly acquired independence, new financial responsibilities tend to arise along with it. Things like paying for cell phones, insurance, gas, prom, and saving up for college just to name a few. Having jobs throughout high school will help students gain valuable work experience in the real world and prepare for a successful life beyond high school while giving them opportunities to learn new skills.

"Working at Whataburger has been a great experience to me because of the valuable work skills I have gained as well as establishing long lasting friendships with my co-workers."
- Jovi Hilario-12

"Everyone was freaking out about talking to him, but I just went up to him and asked if it was okay to take a picture with him, and he was completely fine with it. Sean Payton visits my work (Urban Air Trampoline Park) all the time. He's super nice!"

"Living on a Prayer"

by BON JOVI

God. Whether referred to as Jesus, Buddha, Allah or just plain Spirit, it's something to believe in. For many, it's a life long spiritual quest to understand the world, life, and why we exist. At Richland High, the student body represents a variety of spiritual ideals; believers, non-believers, and everything in between.

ONE REBEL'S TESTIMONY

It was my fifth grade year when we decided to move here to North Richland Hills. It was me, my mom, step-dad, sister, and brother living in a two bedroom apartment. I disliked it because I felt like I didn't belong and being the new kid wasn't easy because no one wants to talk to you. On top of hating the new place, my mom's relationship with my step-dad became abusive. The next year, on my first day of sixth grade, the teacher put us in pairs and my partner was Rachael Leech. Rachael was a Christian and the type who followed all the rules and shared her story of faith openly. We became best friends and she invited me to church. At that time, I didn't believe I had a good enough life to believe in God. Finally, after months of asking me to church I reluctantly gave in and told her, "Only if you promise me that it's on a Wednesday night and you'll never ask me again." The following Wednesday, we attended church. That day, I had already decided that it was going to be traitorous but deep inside my heart, I felt like it was home. In 2008, after falling in love with my new church and everyone in it, my mom confided in me that she was showing the symptoms of having breast cancer. My faith was shaken. Shortly after that, I stopped all contact between myself and all the church members because nothing was more important to me than my mom's well being. I became a shut-in and confined myself to my home. I was getting messages from Rachael and just to shut her up I started going back to church. A year later, my dad, who was in and out of jail since I was two, contacted me. I believed that it may be my chance to finally bond with my father. I got to go to church camp that year and I was saved. I was praising God because he was doing so many good things in my life. Within that year, my dad went back to jail and I started to see that being in Christ was an emotional roller coaster. I felt God telling me that the only guidance that I needed was my mom. I started to feel at ease with the religion that I had chosen for myself. And, even though I felt that I was being tormented, I knew that eventually, good things would come my way. I was certain that Jesus had my back. Since then, my mom has been rechecked for breast cancer and the tests came back clean. I started to live my life for Christ because I saw that he had a plan for me and it wouldn't work until I followed Him and gave Him my all.

- Apryl De La Rosa

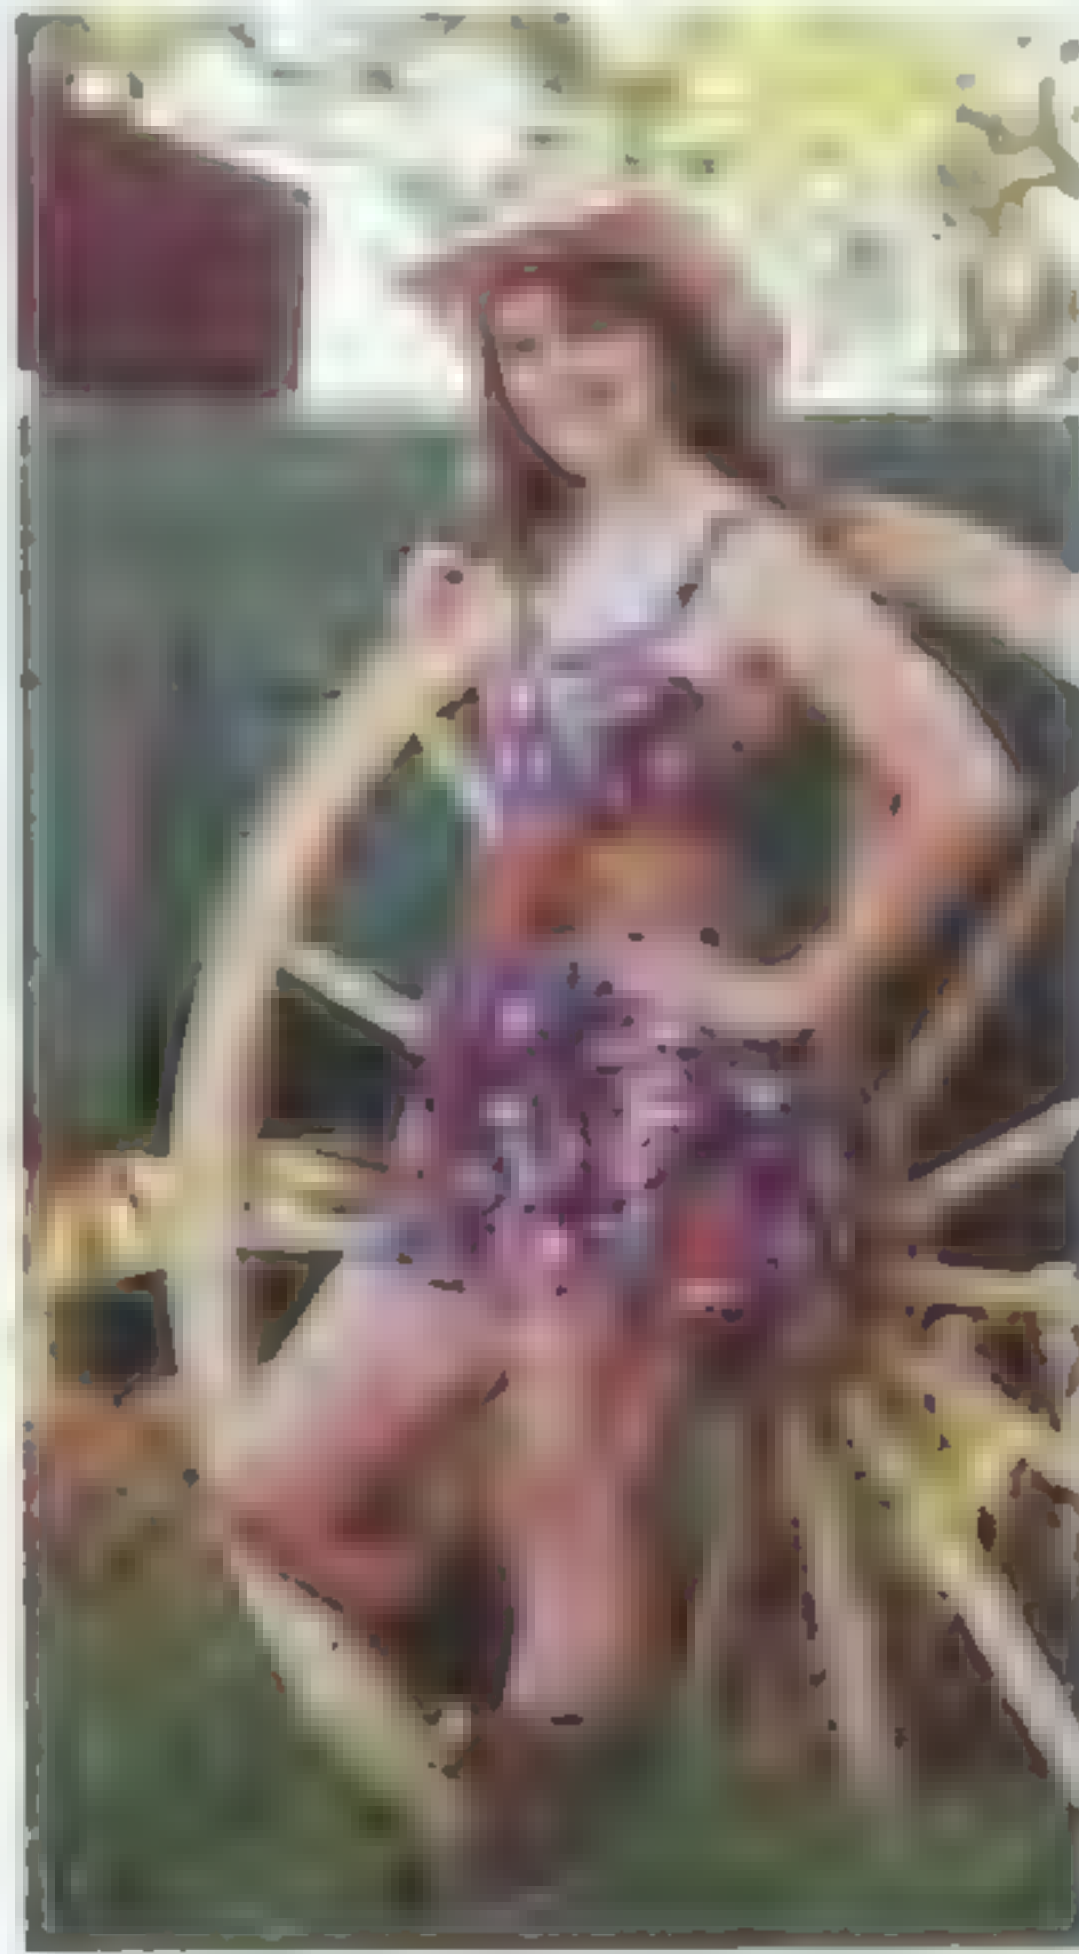

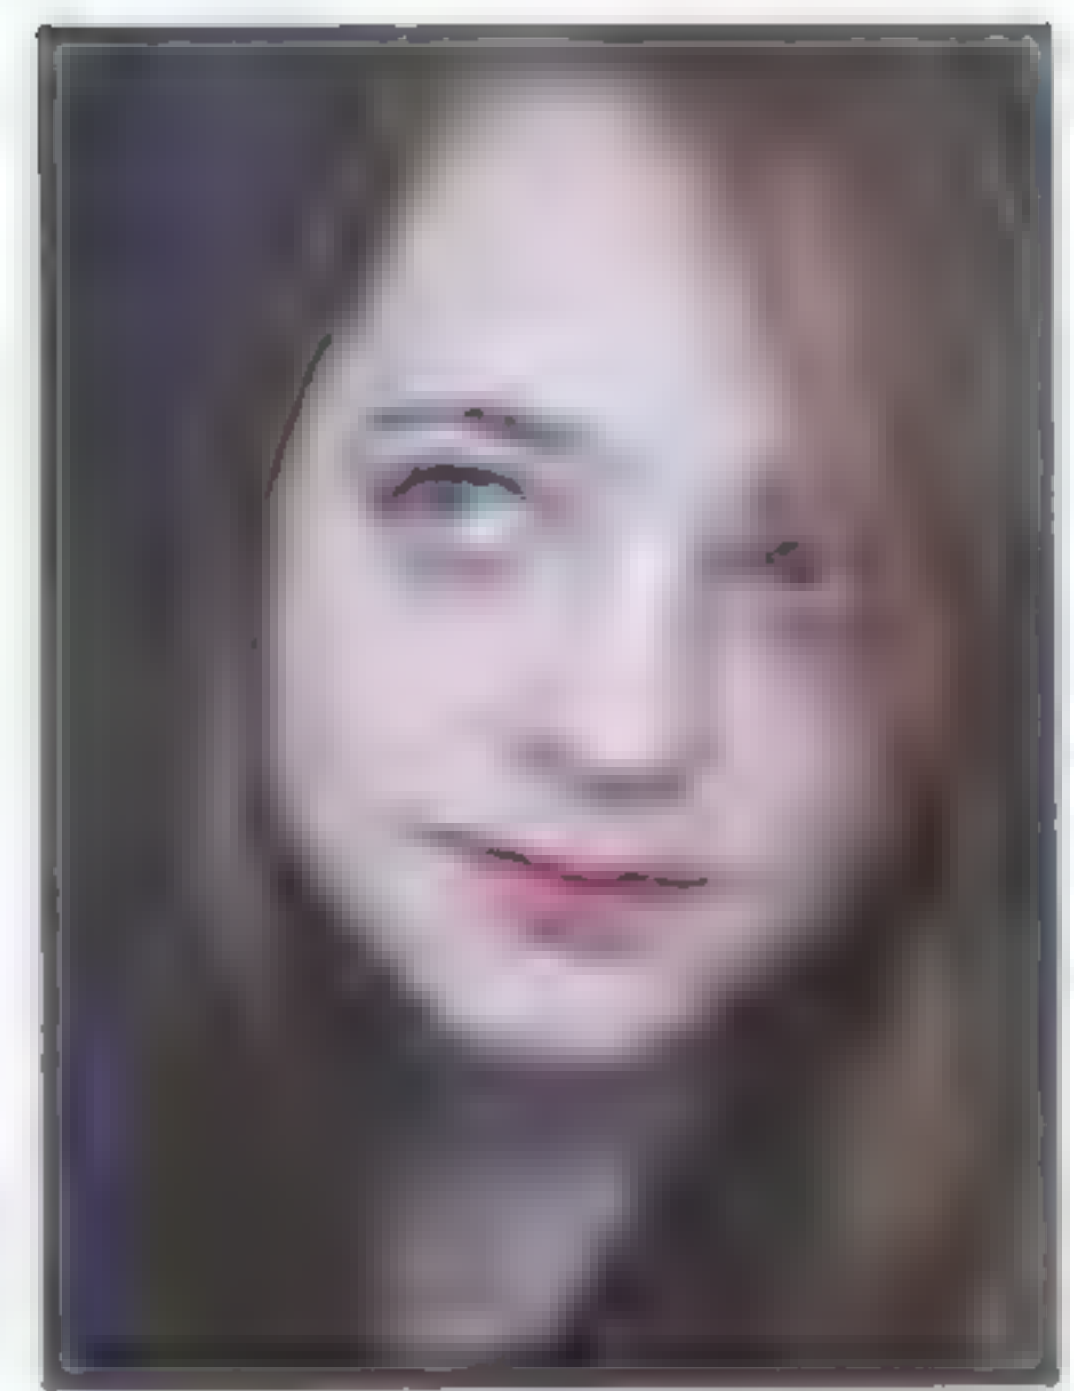

"Why believe in something that may not exist when you can just live life to the fullest."

- Jody Campbell-12, Agnostic

"Even though I grew up in a Christian home, I never knew what it was to be a Christian until the summer of 2010. Now, not only is my church family a big part of my life, but it's like I have a best friend with me all the time."

- Julia Watson-12, Baptist

"I'm a Christian because with God in my life, I can accomplish anything, and when I feel like there is no one left that I can go to, God is always there watching over me."

- Kayla Toney-10, Christian

"It makes me lead a better lifestyle and it also makes me want to do good deeds for others."

Rebel Faith

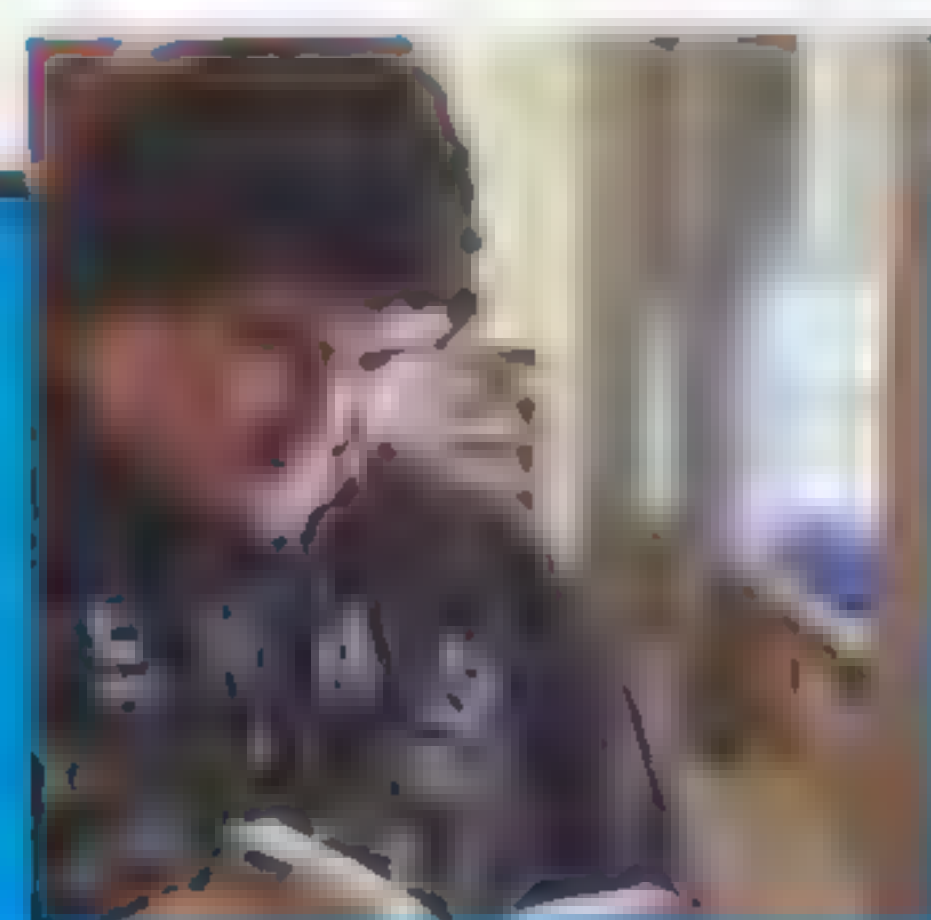

A Look Inside

Students gather for "See You At the Pole", a student led prayer for the school, community, and each other.

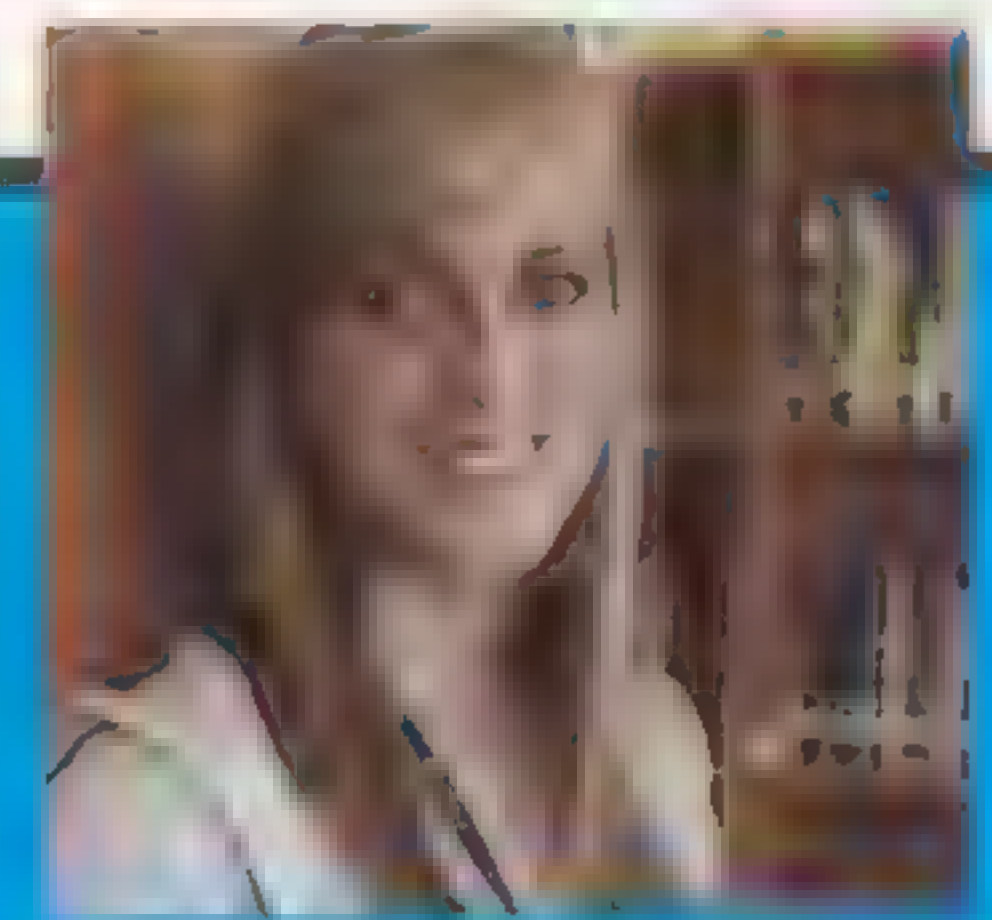

When asked about her faith: Aleva Ak-12 had this to say: "I was raised in a Muslim household so most of my morals are based on that belief system." Ak observes her faith by fasting for a month and abstaining from worldly desires. My family is Shia Muslim so during the month of Muharram we go to the mosque.

Buddhism was something I chose for myself because I found it simple. It's mainly independent prayer and meditation. We focus on the health of the mind, no strength and will. It helps me find peace.

- Tyler Harmon-12

I was raised as a Mormon and I don't know where I would be without my faith. It keeps me on the right track and reminds me to be kind and generous. My church has been my family and everyone I know is a brother. We don't judge. We love each other as equals."

homecoming game

The tradition of Homecoming was started by the University of Missouri, University of Illinois and Texas' own Baylor University around 1910. The football game, rallies, parades, speeches and dances were intended to unite alumni and students to create a stronger sense of school pride. For the past 102 years, that element of school pride has grown with the inclusion of dress-up days, mums that get bigger by the year, and stadiums packed with eager spectators rooting on the home team. This year, the Homecoming game reignited Rebel pride and tradition and united the team and fans as the Rebels rolled over the long time rivals Haltom Buffalos with a final score of 28 to 6, making the alumni along with the student body proud to be called a Rebel.

"Don't stop BELIEVING"

varsity football

by journey

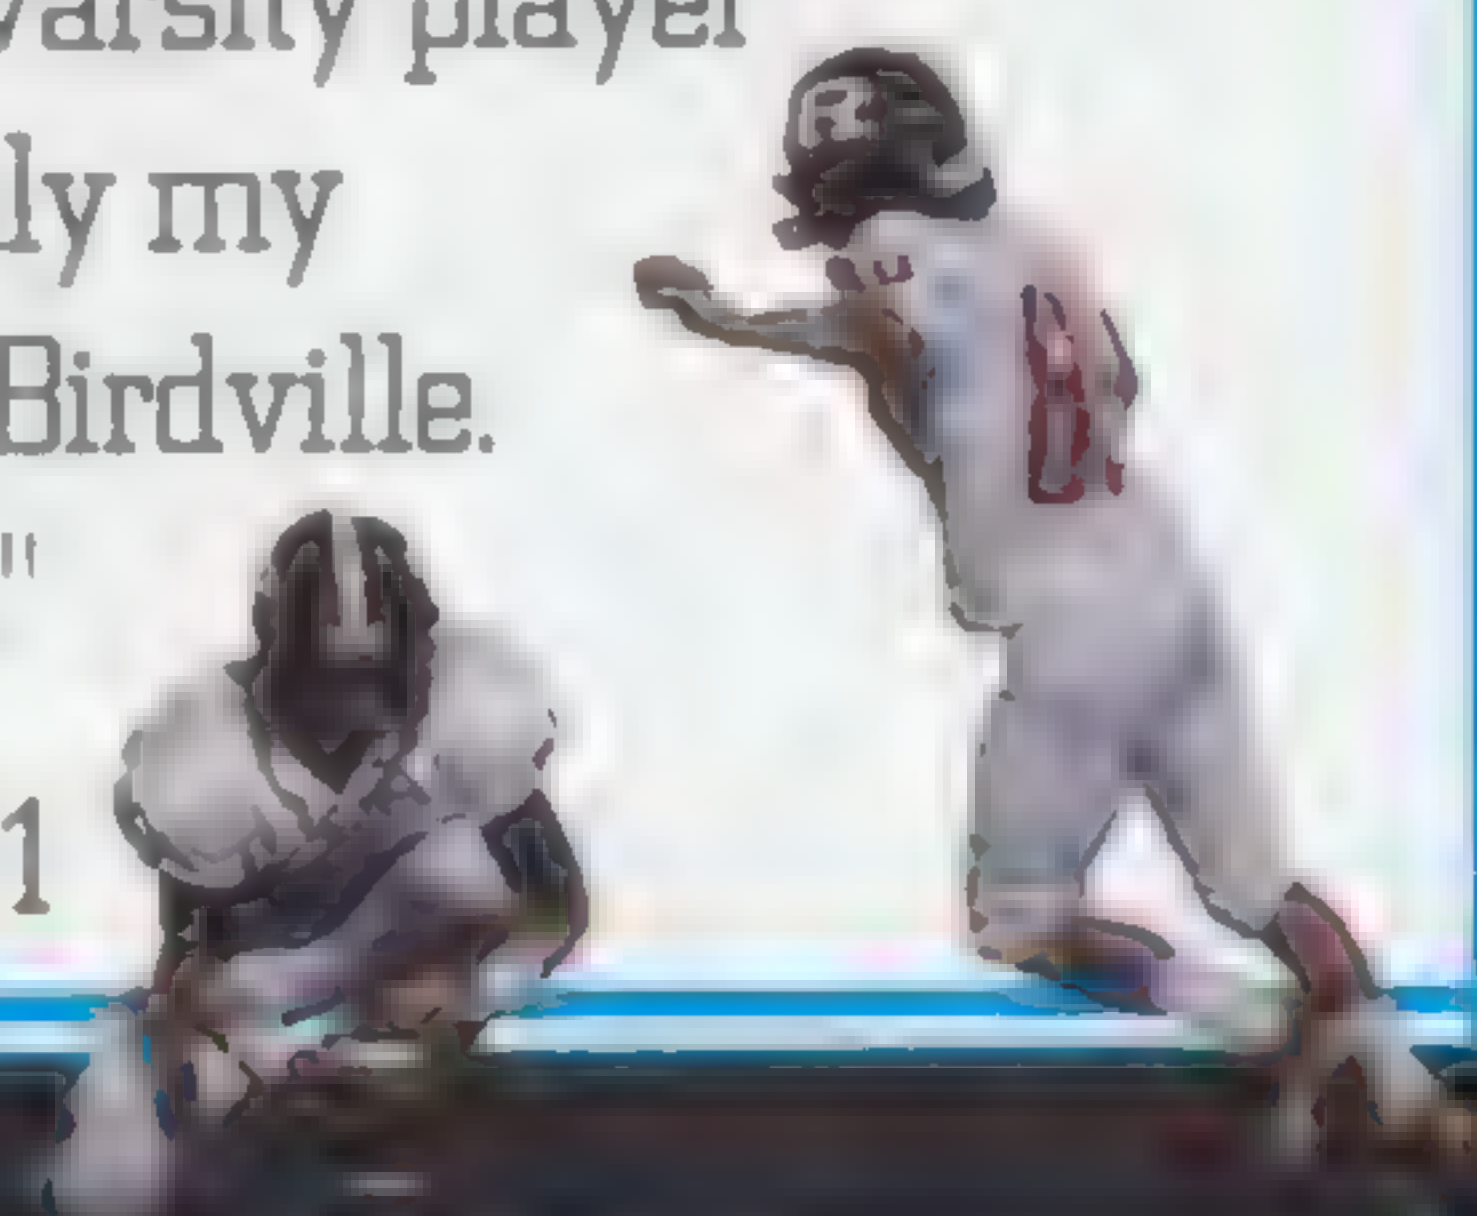

This year's football season seemed like an uphill battle from the start. The boys earned the title of underdog and although this was not the best season for the Rebels, blood, sweat, tears, pulled muscles, and even broken bones were sacrificed for this season. They put everything they had into each and every game. Their undying dedication was only paralleled by the spirited enthusiasm that radiated from the Rebel stands and hearts.

The best experience Joshua Oestricher-12 had this year was "just spending time with the team and just being with so many of [his] close friends."

"Being a first year varsity player was scary, especially my first game against Birdville. But, boy was it fun."

- Jeremy Adams-11

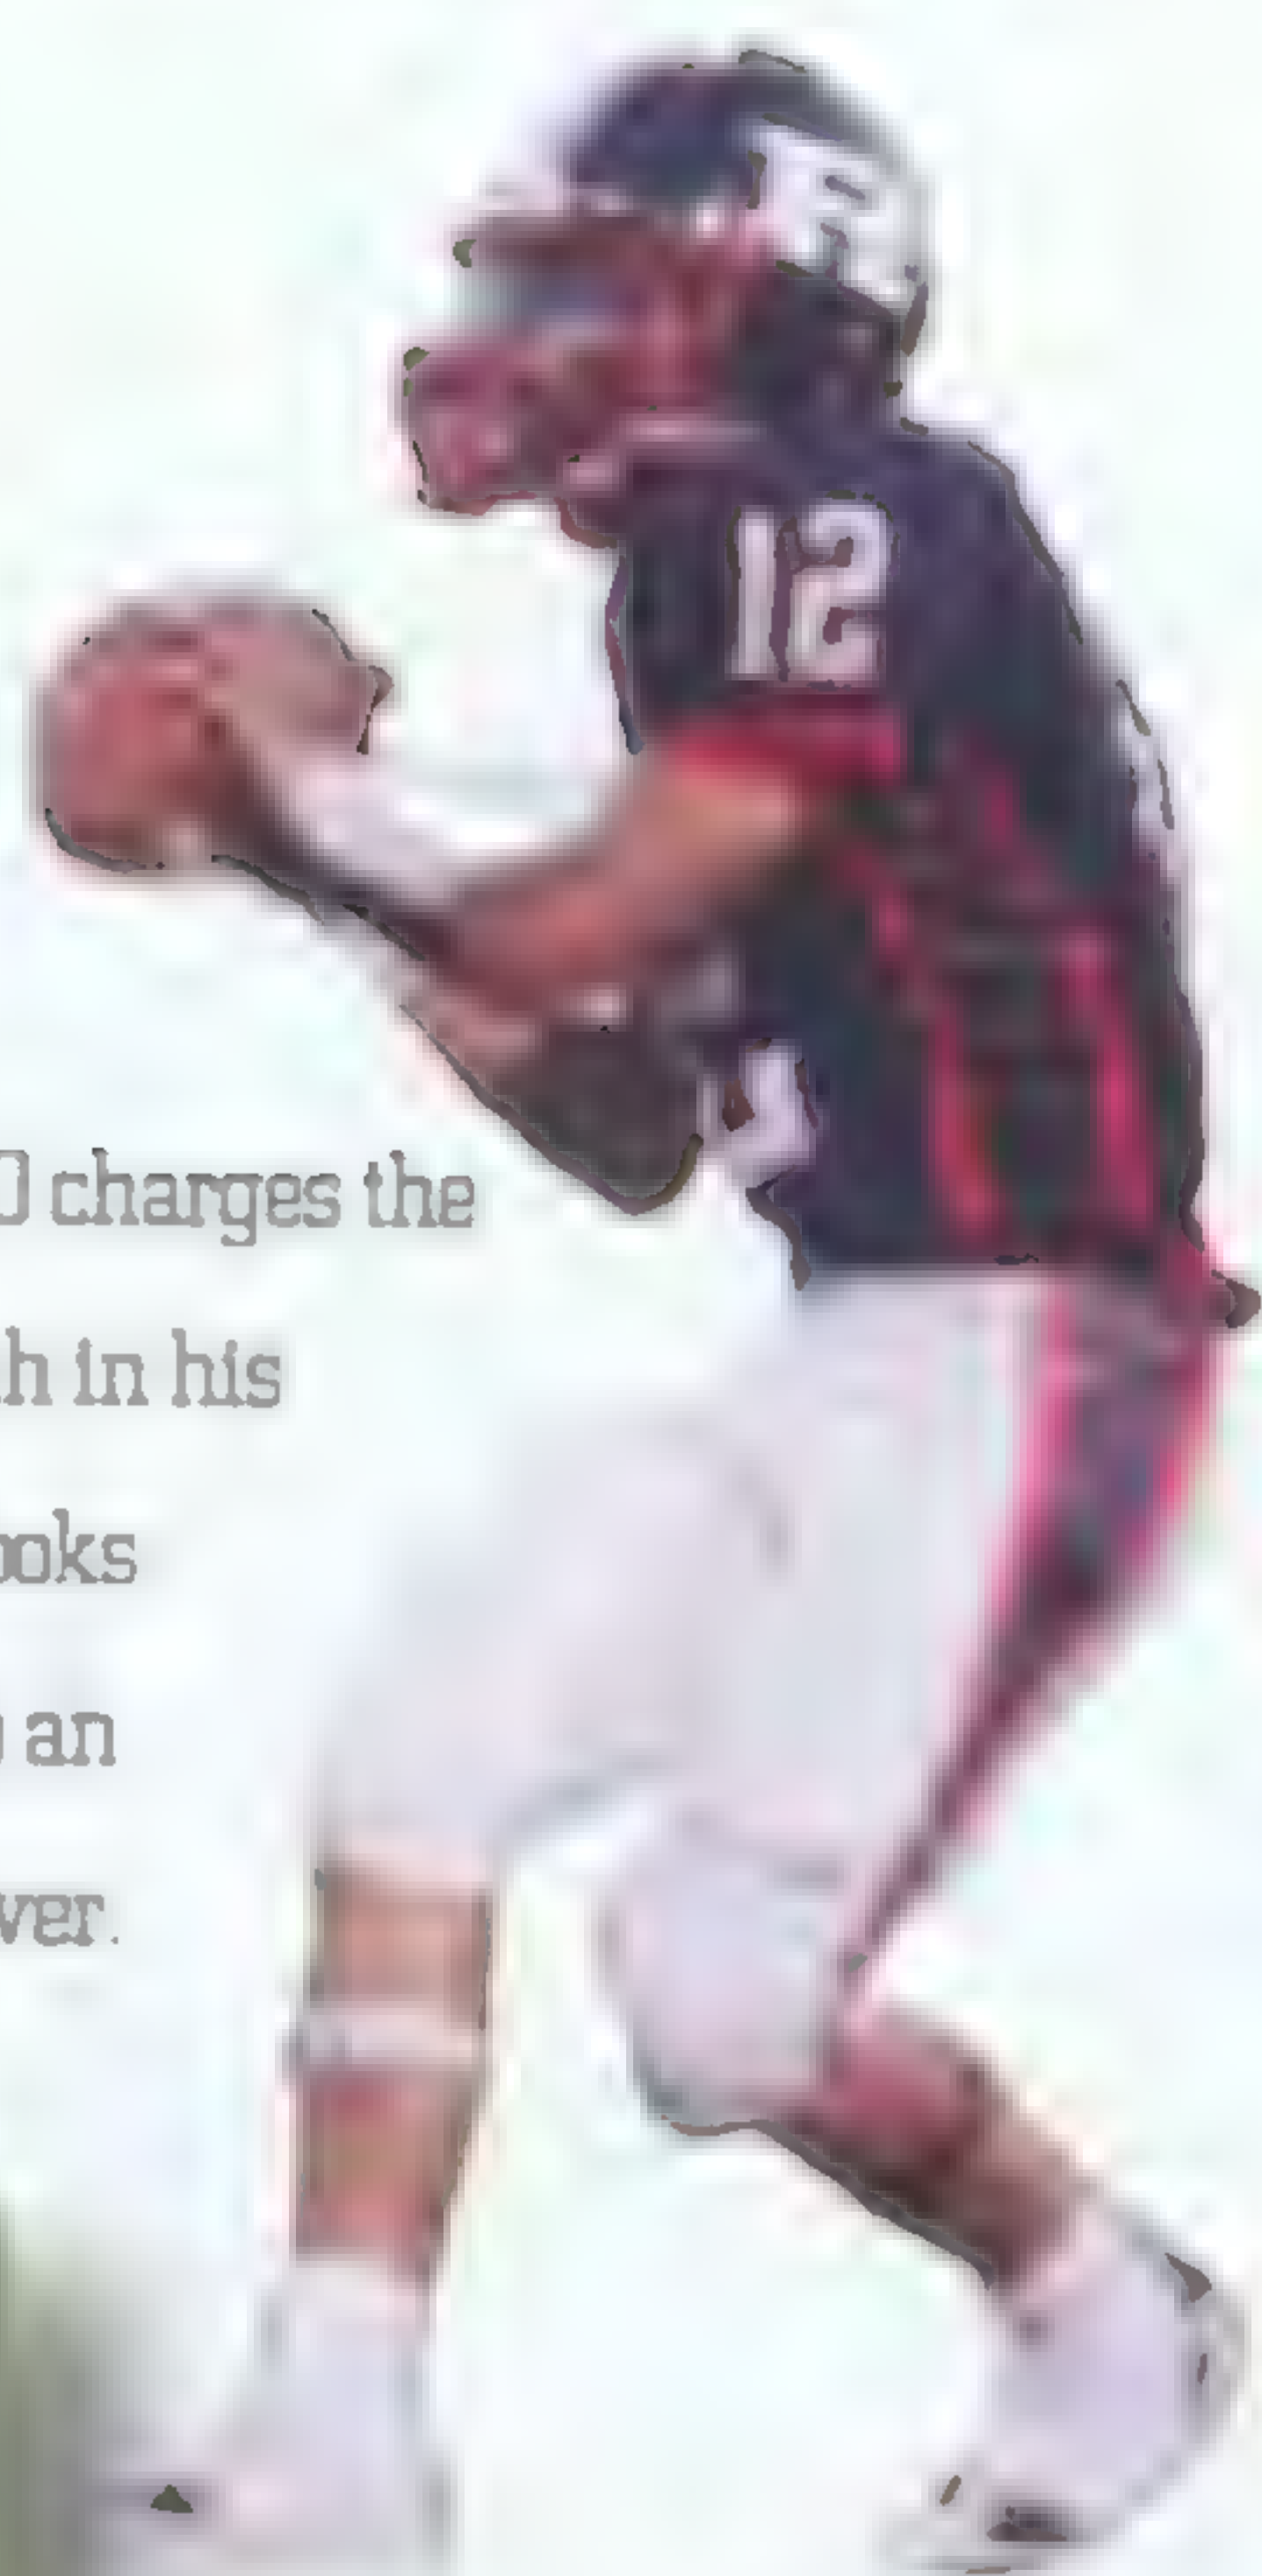

1. Spirits were down but Troy Ward-12 doesn't feel this effect. A young boy that looks up to the football players now encourages and gives a pause for needed humor.
2. Walker Burns-12 exemplifies the famous line that we all know by heart, "Run Forrest, run!"

One Team REBELS One Dream

This year, the JV Rebels faced a tough season that brought them closer together. The team was at a loss when players were benched due to injuries that ranged from concussions to leg injuries. As the season came to a close, the team had more than enough memories to last until next season, while managing to leave plenty of room for redemption. These Rebels feel like they have unfinished business and look forward to the challenge of meeting their own high expectations for next year.

With a new coach at the helm, the Freshman team had an amazing season. The Rebels found ways to revamp the previous year's play book and with a fresh outlook on the season, the team approached every game as if it was their last, leaving everything they had on the field. Their record reflected their hard work, finishing the year 10-2.

varsity cheerleading

From pep rallies to games, the varsity cheerleaders are always there to promote school spirit. Many underestimate the work put into being a cheerleader, but in reality cheerleading is a highly challenging and dangerous sport. The cheerleaders risk serious injury everyday doing gymnastics and high-flying stunts all in the name of entertaining and pumping up the Rebel fans. Sure, it's easy to stand on the sideline and chant to spectators, but it takes true dedication and will to really liven up a crowd and perform the skills and routines that the varsity cheerleaders do. They are not only representatives of the school but the community as well. Through fundraisers and cheer clinics, the cheerleaders are looked up to as role models by young, aspiring cheerleaders. With that being said, the cheerleaders strive to do their best to keep the tradition alive and never let the school spirit die.

JV/freshman cheerleaders

JV and freshman cheerleaders work hard throughout the year to prepare themselves to cheer at their respective football games, basketball games, volleyball games as well as performing in pep rallies. This organization requires that the girls wake up early in order to practice their cheers and dances and then stay out late cheering at games and pumping up the crowd.

"I do cheerleading simply because I love to cheer the football players on while having fun with my friends."

The music" marching band

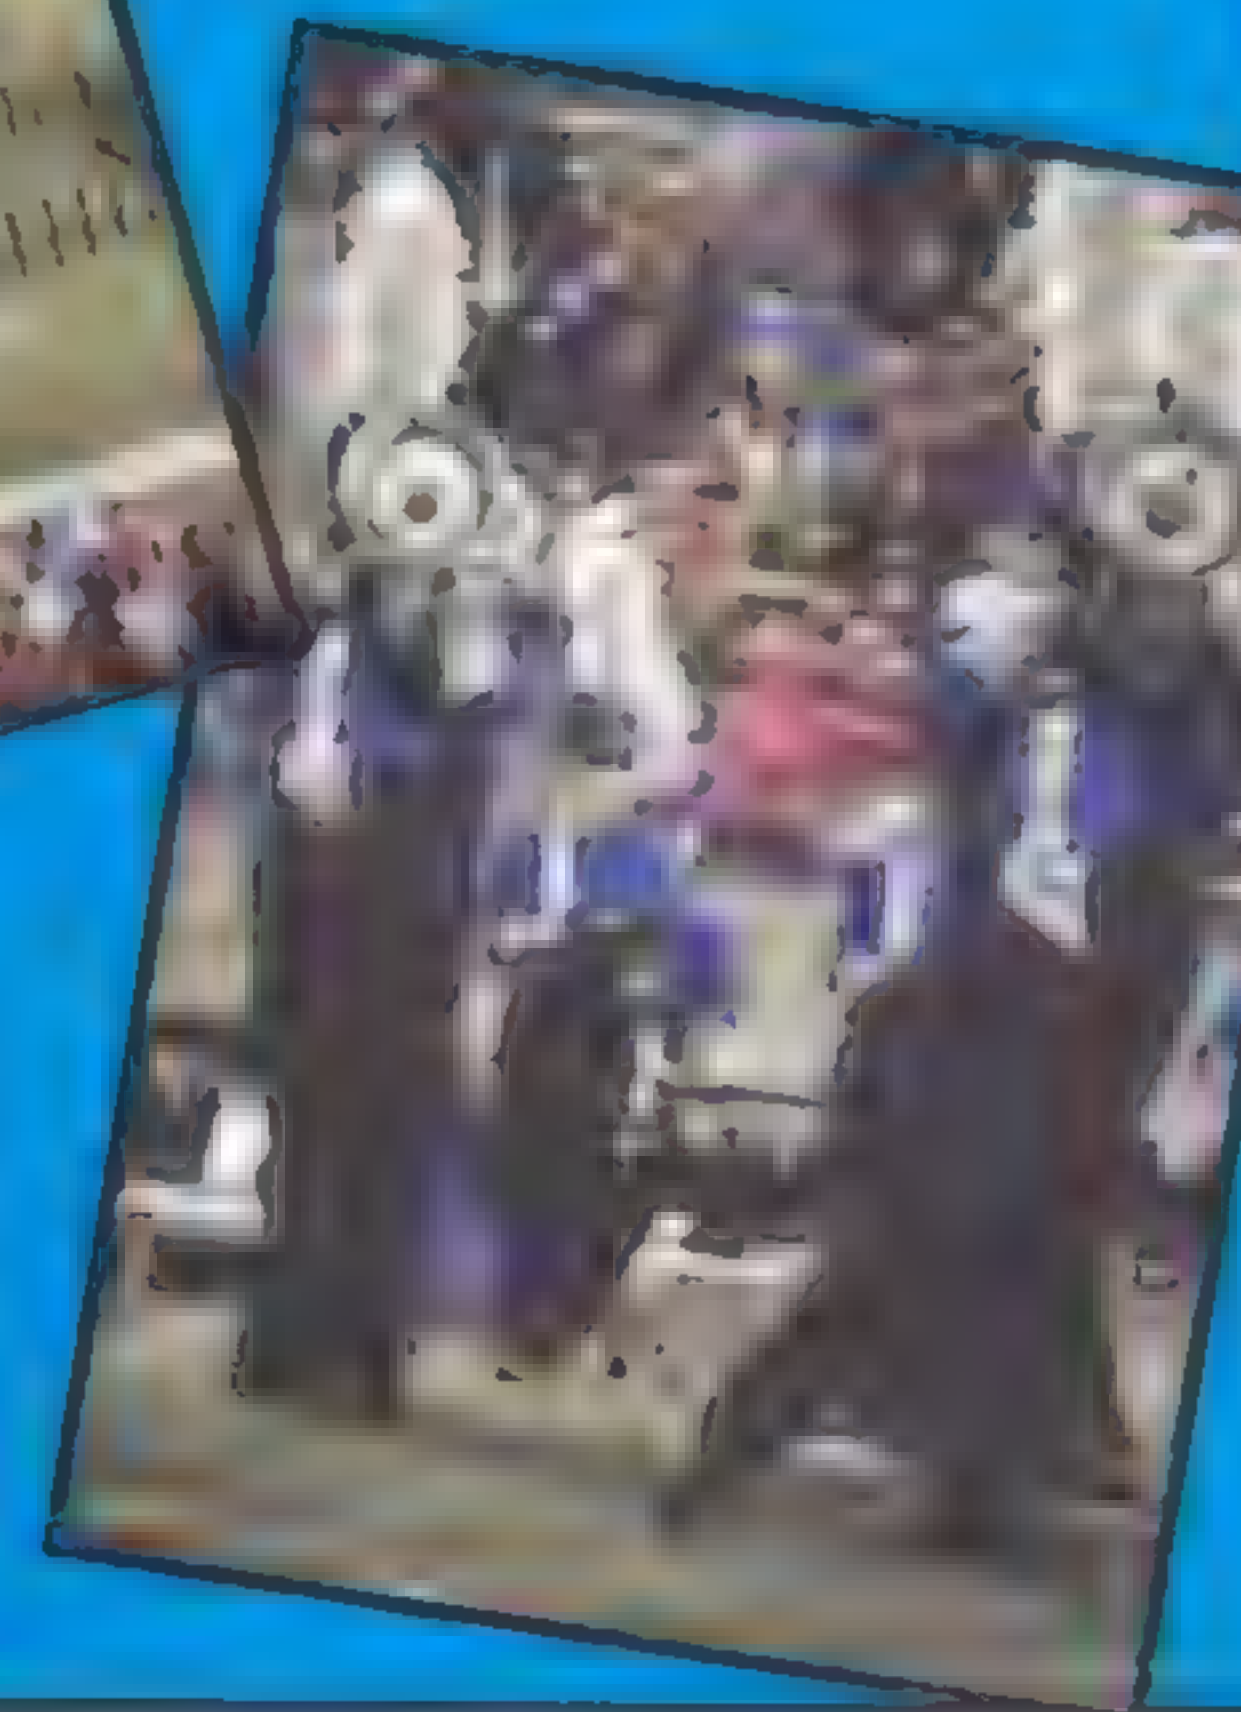

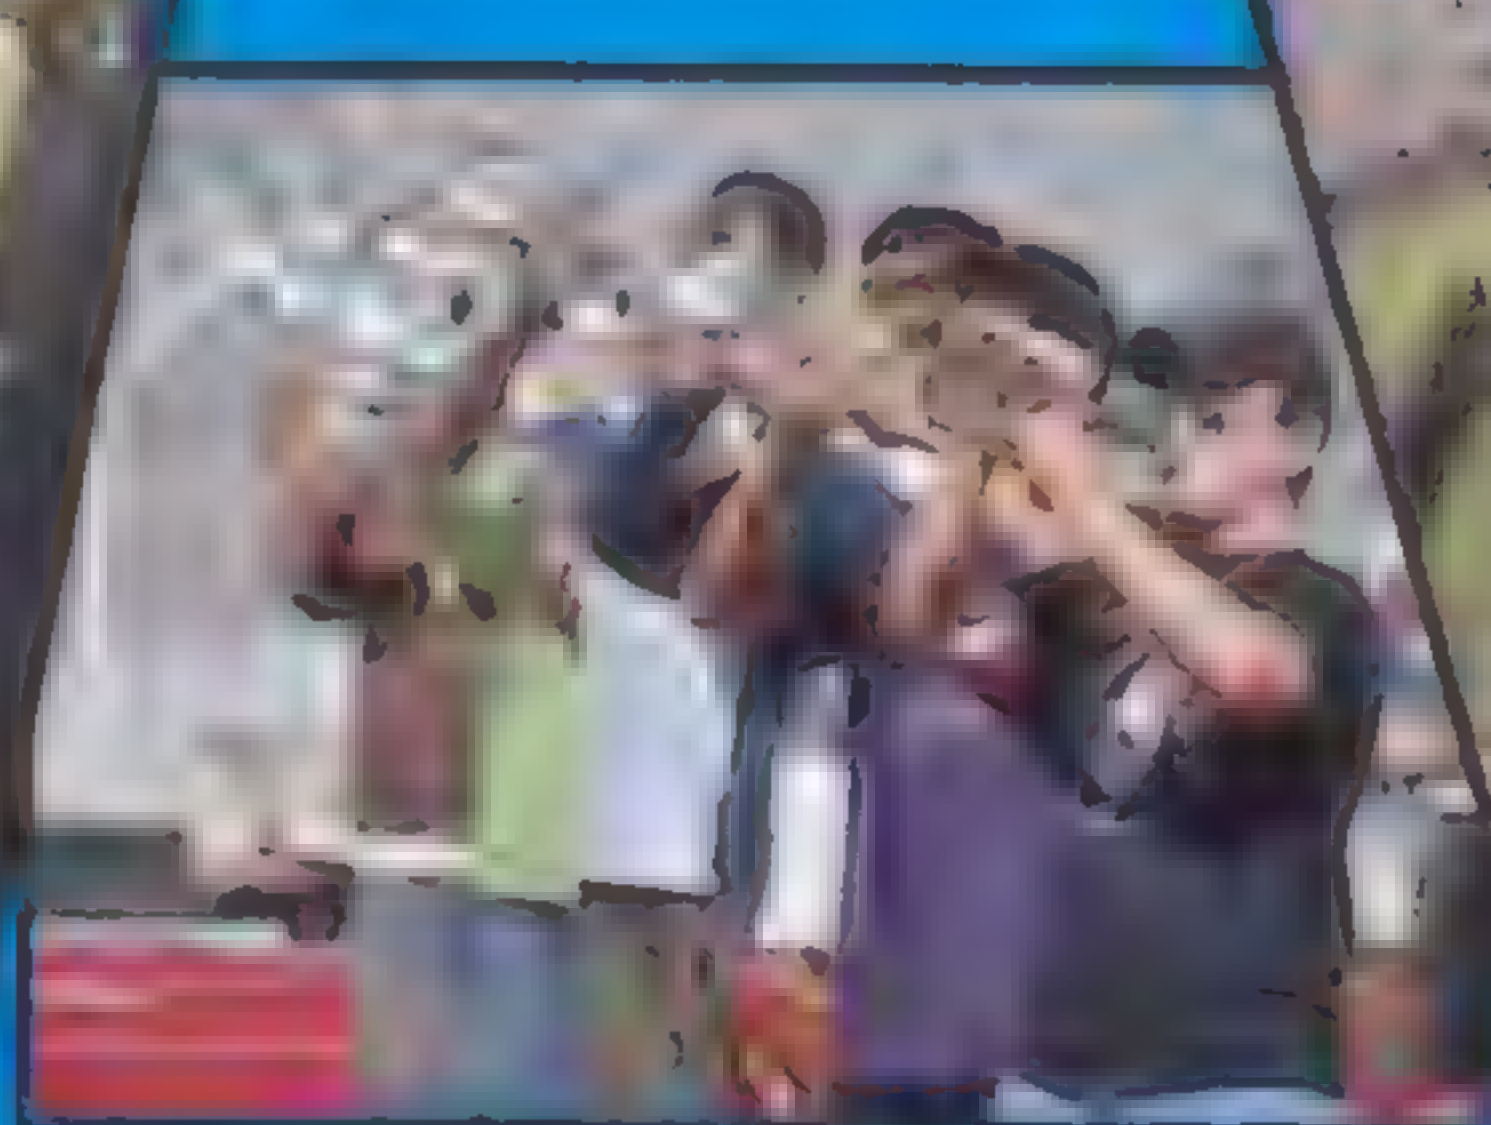

Confidence. Passion. Performance. This has been and will be an eternal motto for the Richland Rebel Band. Like every year, the band dedicated itself to march side-by-side in near perfection. But this year was different because the show had an impact on each performer's heart and soul. There was a deeper meaning that everyone could relate to which in the end made the show incredibly memorable. "The Diary" emphasized that life is short and that the people we love are the most important things we could ever have. Nothing should be taken for granted. Drum majors Megan Daugherty-12 and Ryan Itoh-11 led the Richland Rebel Band in a successful season through passion and dedication and this was evident in the quality performances on the field.

"Despite what some may say, color guard is a sport. It's like theatre, dance, and drill team all mixed into one. It's so cool to know that the audience is there to watch you and when you're done and you know you've had the best performance of your life. It's so rewarding because you've worked so hard for something", says Madison McCune -12. This is what color guard is about. It is these girls working hard to keep crowds entertained, whether it is during half-time at a football game or in competition. They become a family over the course of the year. With the emotional themes of the performances this year that dealt with death and the heartache suffered in the aftermath of 9/11, these girls made deep connections with each other as they performed.

9/11 inspired the winter guard show this year. It was an intense, artistic interpretation of the devastation and tragic loss suffered by so many Americans on that fateful day in history.

Dixie Belles

Mrs. Numa has been the director of the Dixie Belles since 2003. She received training at Svetlana Stanova Ballet Art School and Step by Step Dance Studio and danced with Sam Houston High School. She implemented intense but effective training to earn many awards throughout the year.

The Dixie Belles are top-ranked in: jazz, modern, lyrical, pom, military, novelty, technique, and have outstanding choreography. The girls' hard work has earned them the Showmakers 2012 State Champions Award, the titles of Team State Champions, and Officer State Champions at the Danceline Classic State Championship. In addition to competing, they contribute to the community by taking part in fundraisers and local events. Their contributions set a positive example for younger girls to push themselves and to strive to be at their best when committed to any organization.

Q&A: what does dancing mean to you?

"I've loved Dixie Belles this year. It's an amazing program to be a part of and has shown me what real teamwork can achieve. Building friendships and becoming a part of the team is my favorite. The best thing about being an officer is knowing that my teammates can look up to me and being able to lead this amazing organization."

- Meagan Floyd-11

"I like Dixie Belles because it has changed me and gave me more motivation to keep my grades up. I dance for fun, not to be professional. My favorite thing about being a Dixie Belle is representing RHS."

- Mayderin Dornika-11

"I love Dixie Belles. It's really tough and challenging, but I love it. It has made me more dedicated and way more active. It has also made me a lot more responsible. My favorite thing about being a Dixie Belle is just the bonding experience it provides."

- Hailey Barnes-11

"I love Dixie Belles and being a part of the team. We're like a family. I definitely work my hardest and try to become a better dancer everyday. My favorite thing about being a Dixie Belle is being able to express myself through dancing. I love performing and being able to show people what I've got!"

- Brandi Jones-10

"Dixie Belles is amazing. Every year is completely different than the last. I have changed a lot while being in Dixie Belles. It shows me how to be more confident. The best thing about being captain is being able to see everyone grow as a person, and dancer throughout the year."

SENIORS

This year's Richland Rebel Volleyball team brought a new meaning to the word dedication. All the long practices, sweat, and devotion the girls put in to the game, finally paid off. Our Lady Rebels became Bi-District Champions after beating Mansfield Legacy in the first round of the playoffs. While the girls were defeated in the second round of playoffs, many players received accolades for their efforts. First Team All-District was awarded to Katie Timmons-11 and Sydney Brock-10, who was also recognized as Blocker of the Year. Ciara Costello-12, Rachel Lain-12, and Katelyn Warnock-12 were awarded Second Team All-District. Rebekah Brouse-11 and Amber Hoffman-12 received honorable mentions. It's likely that none of this would have happened had it not been for the special bond formed between the girls. The Richland Rebel Volleyball team truly made the 2011 a season one to remember.

JV/freshmen volleyball

For the JV and freshman volleyball teams, this year was anything but easy. Both teams put forth hard work in both practice and games. Whether it resulted in a loss, or a win they continued to push themselves to become better. Their hard work and dedication this year will hopefully serve as a stepping stone to the success they could soon come to realize. "I can't wait for next year. We're going to come back harder and stronger to push ourselves all the way" said Katelynn Dover-10. Throughout the season, the teams showed enthusiasm and were driven to accomplish more. When asked about their potential for next year, sophomore Kaylie Piukana had this to say: "I'm ready for next season with a whole new district. We're coming."

What did being on the volleyball team mean to you and what motivated you to never give up?

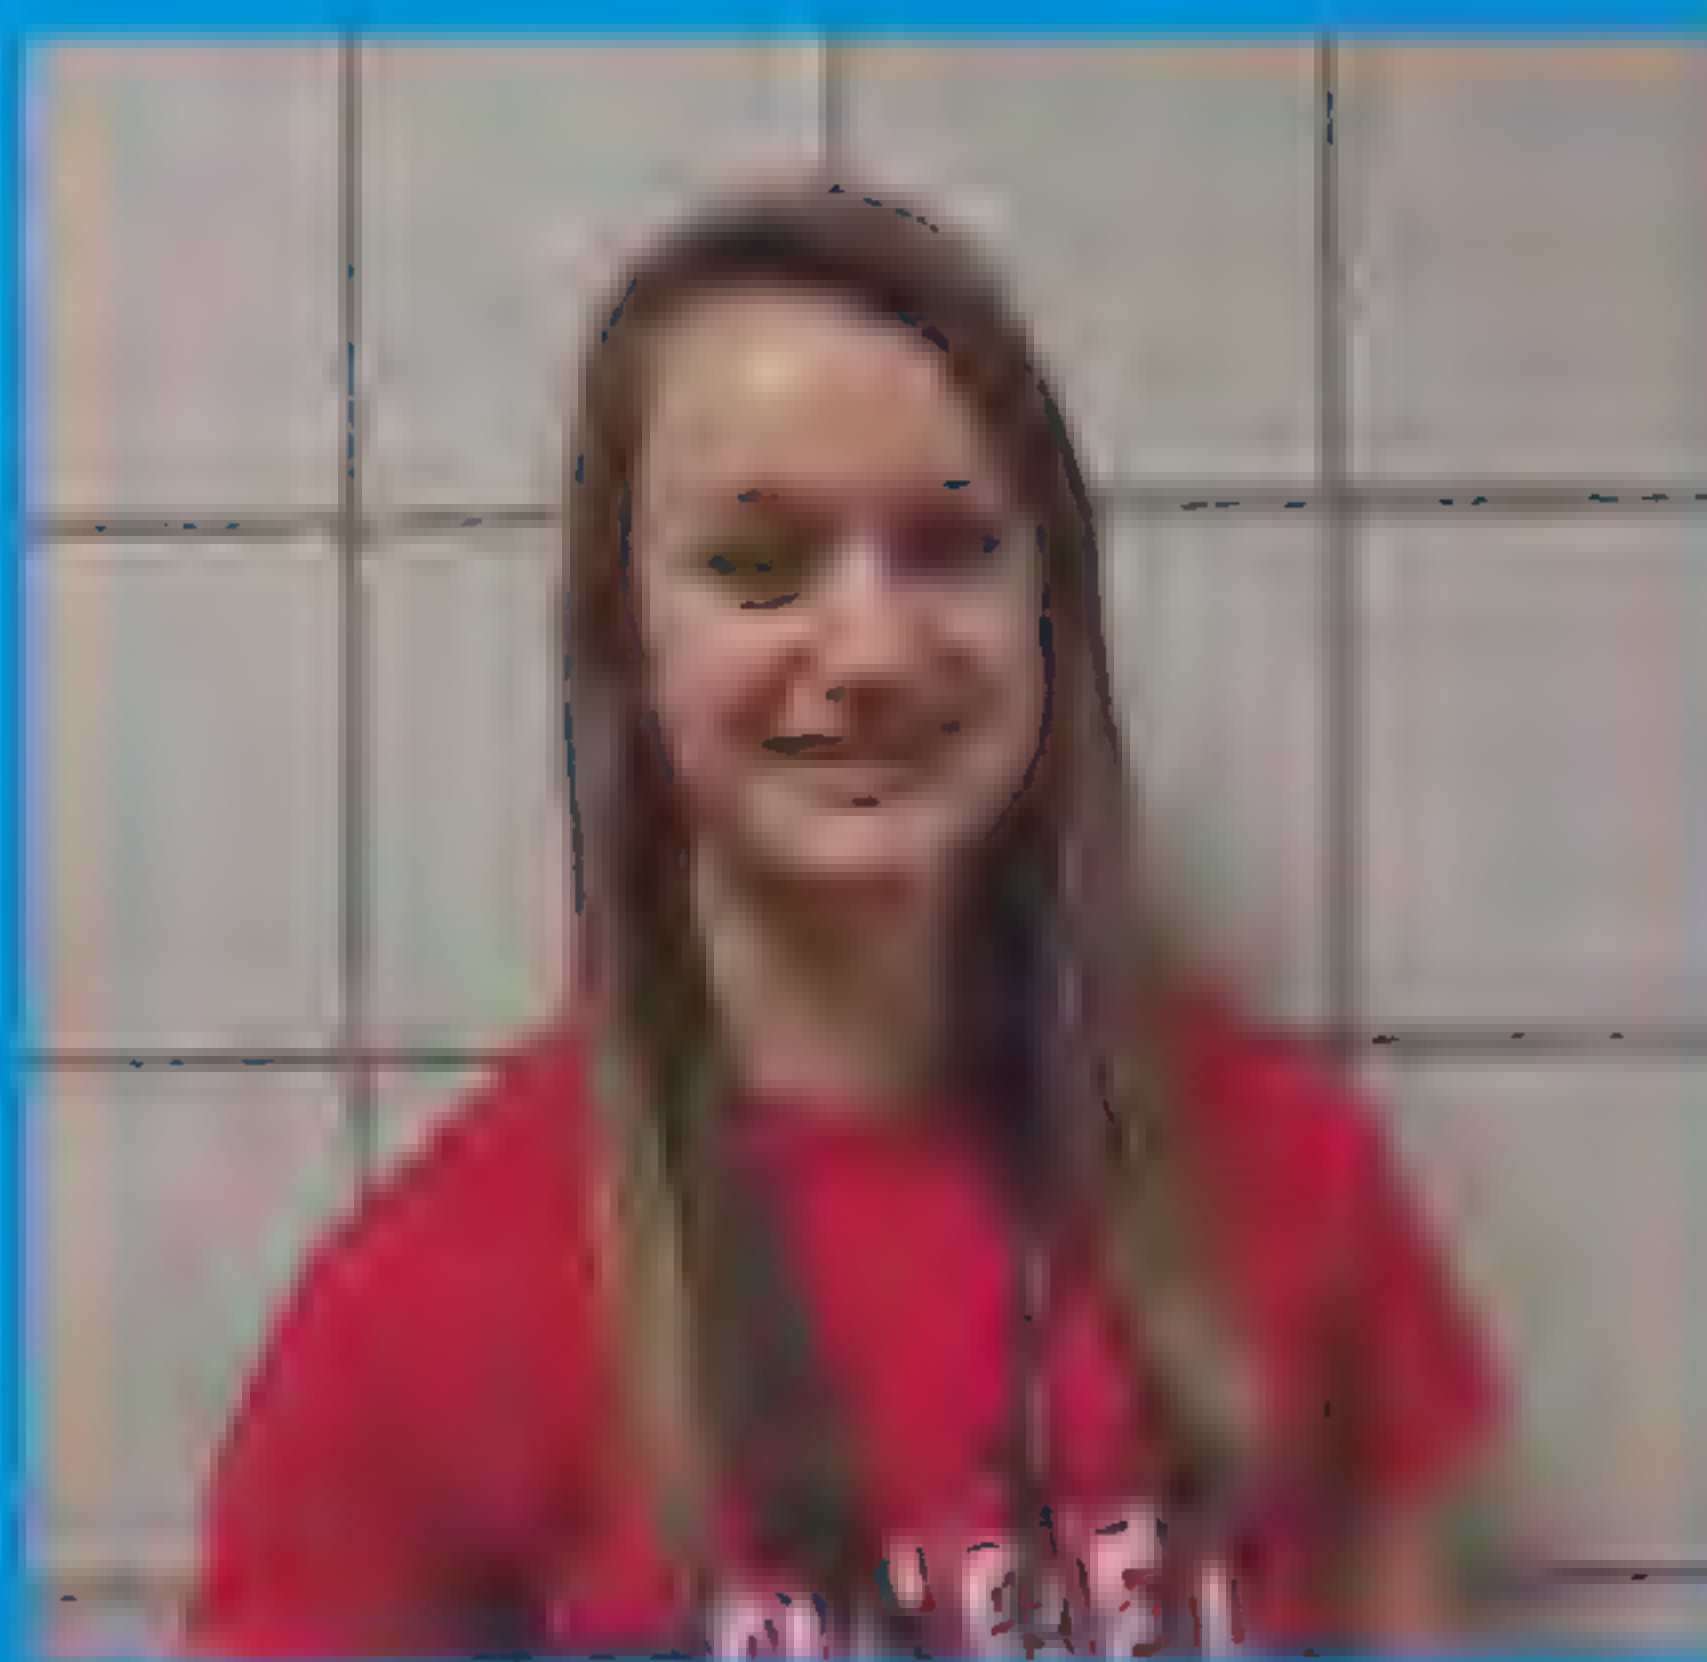

Being on the volleyball team meant a lot to me. It was great to make new friends and do something I love. What motivated me to never give up was my passion for the sport. The excitement and all the chills I got on game day drove me to do my best.

- Kaylie Piukana-10

What being on the volleyball team meant to me was just coming together as a team and leaving everything on the court. I always wanted to give 100% for myself and for my team. I didn't want to work hard for nothing and I felt I proved that.

- Peyton Larson-10

I was so excited to make JV as a freshman. All my hard work had paid off from middle school and also during summer. What motivated me was my love for volleyball and how much I really want to make varsity next year.

Everyone loves the heroic story of the underdog struggling to victory, and it's no exaggeration to say this year, the Richland Cross Country team was an underdog. Opposing schools didn't seem to consider Richland as much of a threat. However, the Boys Varsity unexpectedly surged and came in second in the district meet and went to regionals in Lubbock, where they were joined by their Lady Rebel counterparts. Needless to say, earned respect for their efforts.

"When we say Richland, you say Rebels." Richland pep rallies are unlike any other. Pep rallies are for the teachers, athletes, and students to come together as one to appreciate the meaning of being a Rebel, and keeping the tradition alive. VARSITY BOYS BASKETBALL

After months of preparation and hard work, the boys varsity basketball team had an exceptional season. They had a district record of 15-1, and an overall record of 27-4. After going strong in two of their three tournaments to get 1st place, they came in 3rd during the Whataburger Tournament. During the season, they went from underdog to top dog by beating #1 state ranked Flower Mound Marcus as well as #2 ranked DeSoto. The boys played tough and were challenged, but they never backed down. The season came to a close with the Rebels placing 1st in District after fighting off Colleyville Heritage in OT of an intense nail biter. Although they fell short in the first round of playoffs, it certainly was not from a lack of effort.

A. I think it's fun. I've always liked bowling with guys more than girls because they give me a challenge and push me to be better.

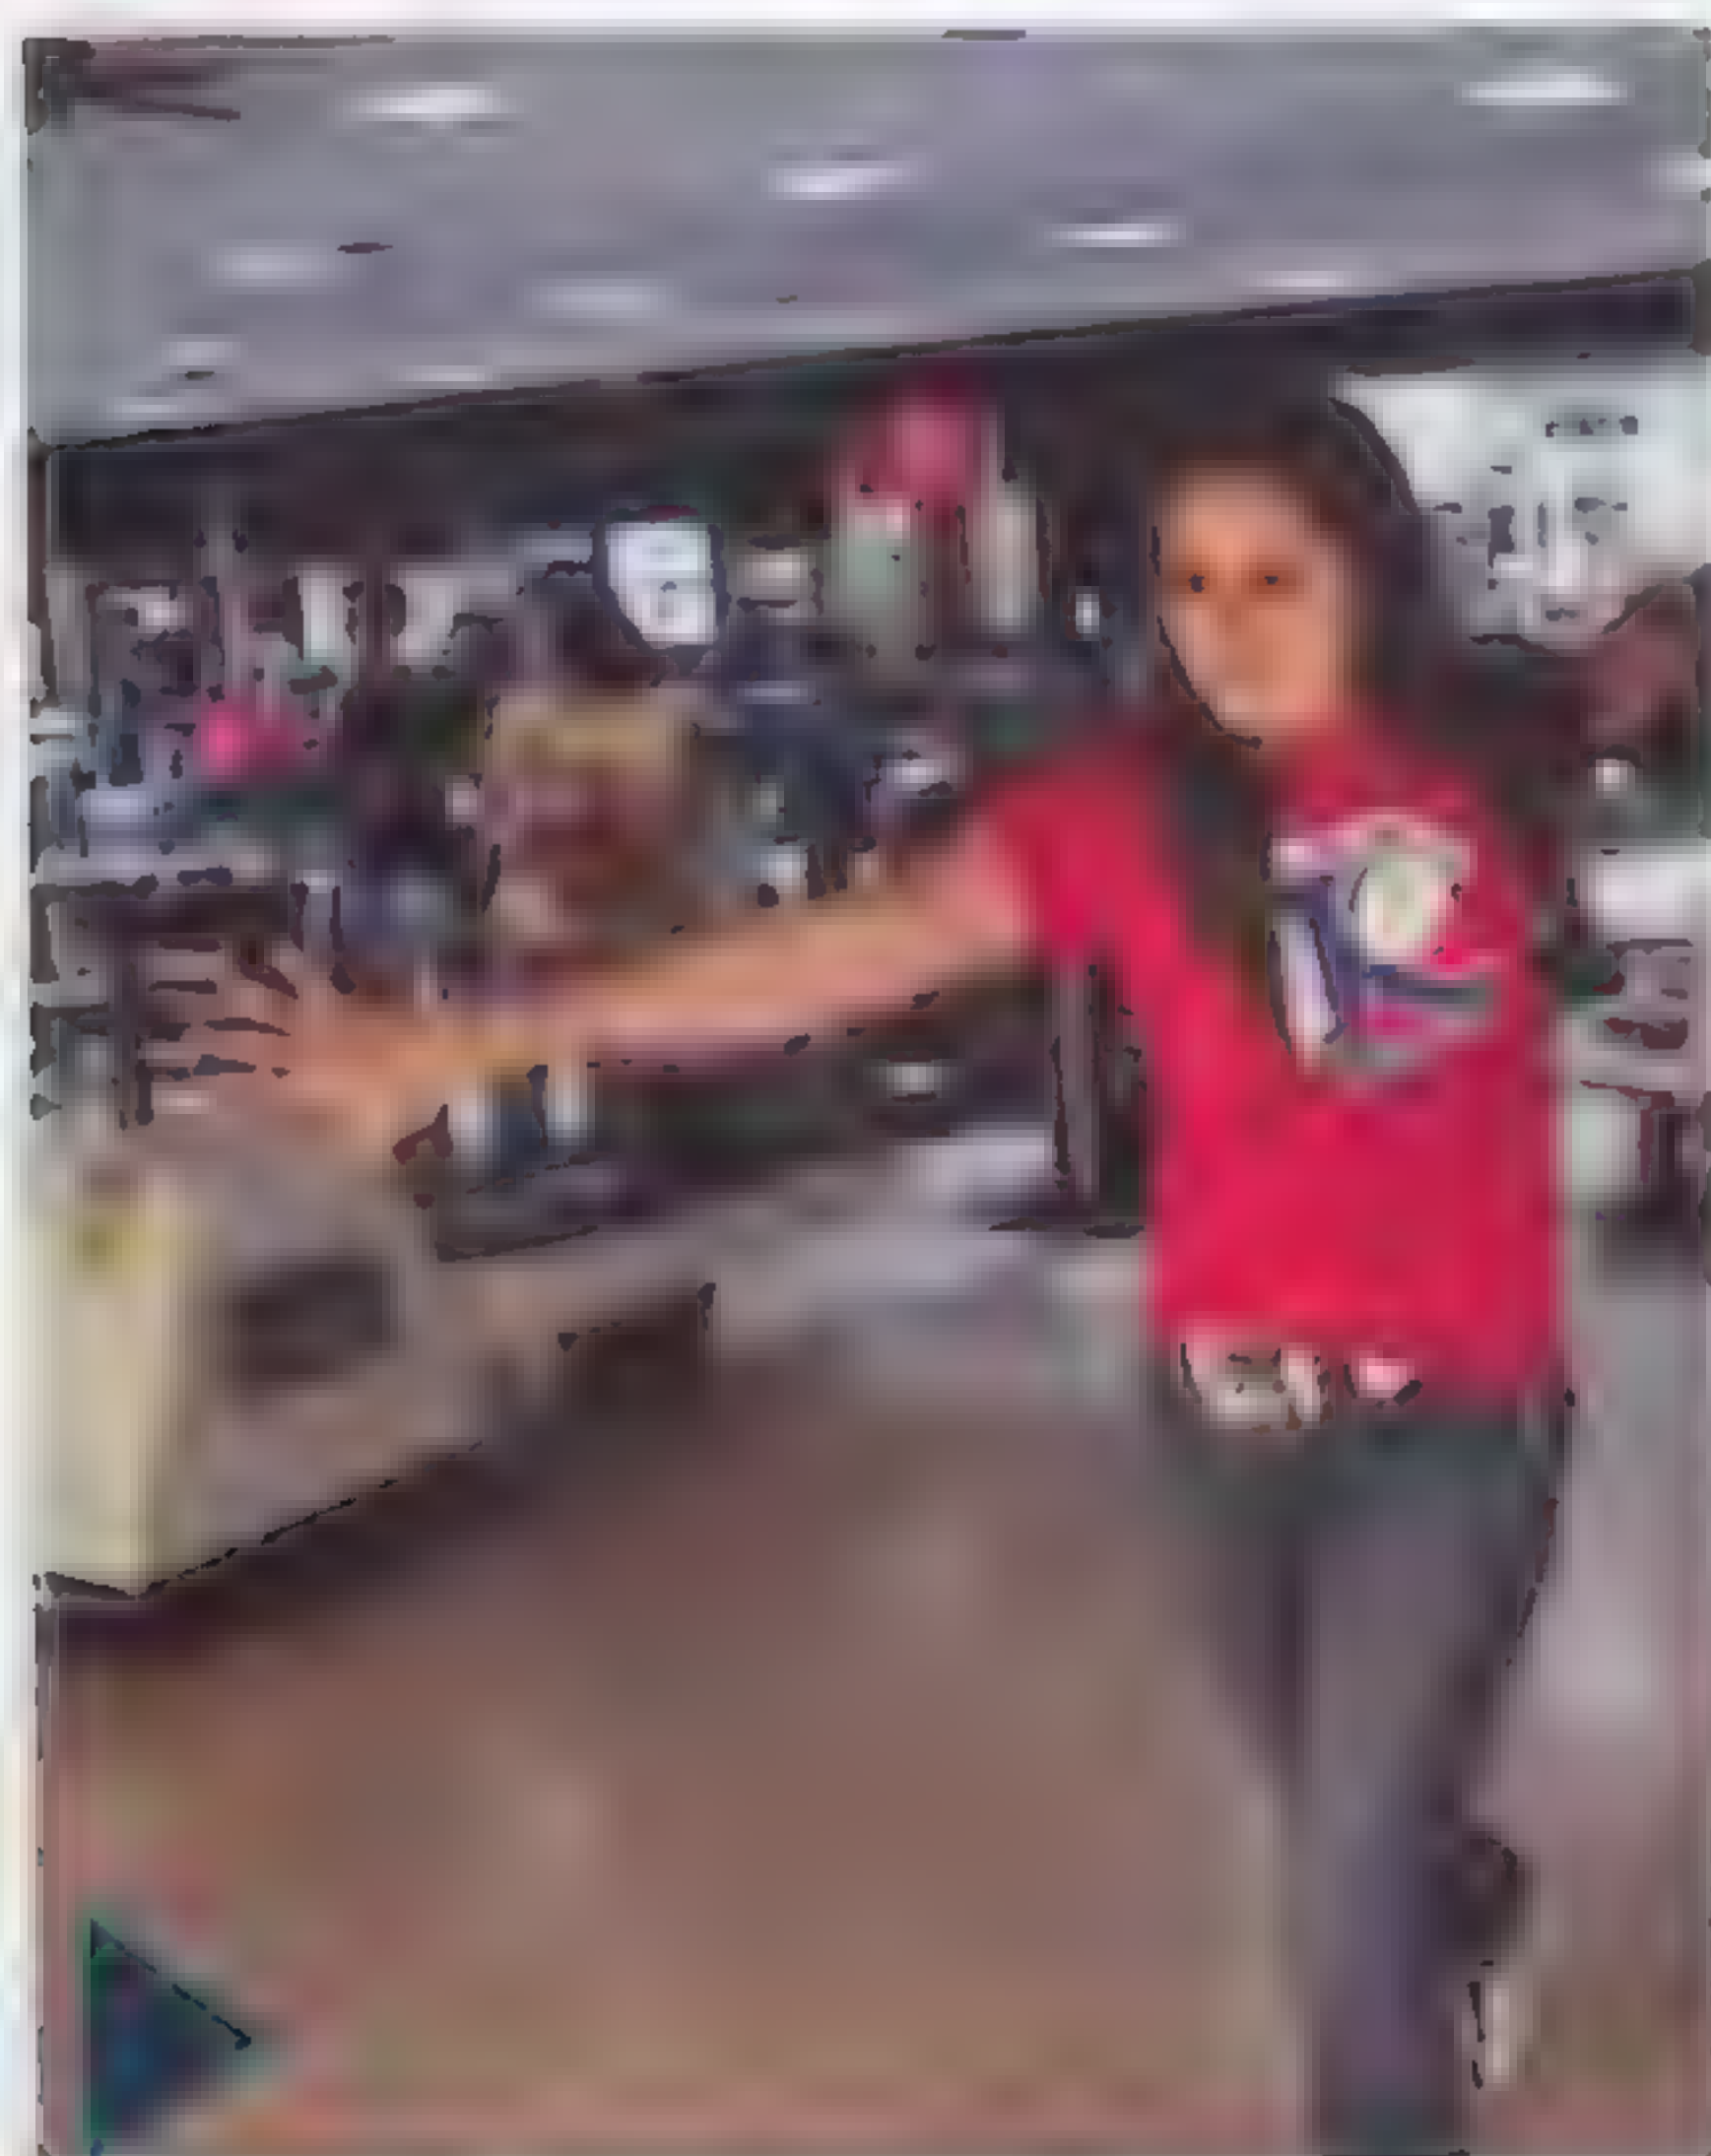

Q. What do you expect in your future with bowling?

A. To get a college scholarship and to win

Q. What did you think when you found out you were doing so well?

Gymnastics is a sport where gymnasts compete against other teams in a variety of events that test each athlete's balance, strength and flexibility. Events range from vault, beam, and floor for female competitors, to pommel horse, parallel bars, high bar, rings, vault, and floor for male competitors. Advice to incoming wrestlers?

"You gotta go onto the mat knowing you're gonna do your best and craziest moves to the other fella to inflict as much pain as possible, you ain't gotta win as long as you're having a good time."

Tyler Fejeran-12

VARSITY AND JV BOYS SOCCER

With a brand new coach at the helm, the JV team was met with many challenges but maintained their composure on and off the field. The boys got off to a tremendous start, winning four of their first five games, but then hit a losing skid and finished the season at 5-7.

However, it was a historic year for the varsity team starting the season 25-0 before losing to the Haltom Buffalos. Despite the loss, the team went on to become District Champions for the first time in the last 13 years. In the post season, the boys defeated Cedar Hill in the first round and moved on to achieve something no previous Rebel Soccer team had done by beating the reigning State Champions, Southlake Carroll. The Rebels' season ended in a heartbreaking shoot-out loss to the Plano Wildcats and a final record of 25-2-1. While the shoes of this team will be hard to fill, the returning players are determined to break more school records next season.

After months of preparation and hard work, the Lady Rebels had an exciting season. Even though this wasn't the best season for the Lady Rebels, they fought with an aggressive playing style each game until the clock ran out. The season came to an end, leaving the seniors to reflect on their last high school soccer experience and the underclassmen to look forward to improvement next year.

"Being on varsity as a freshman was exciting, but it had its ups and downs. The ups were hanging out with the upperclassmen and being able to say I'm on varsity as a freshman. My favorite memory is going to the guys soccer dinners and messing with their cars before the games. Wrapping Saran Wrap around the varsity players' cars was so funny; seeing their faces in shock."

The Richland JV and varsity softball teams exude spirit, dedication, and talent. Both teams spent long hours after school battling the heat and working hard. The girls had many victories but they didn't stop there. Their hard work paid off with many more wins from JV and a District title win from the varsity girls. Fighting tooth and nail for the entire season, both teams left an outstanding name for Richland's JV and varsity softball teams.

Baseball is America's pastime. It gives student athletes the opportunity to become a part of something greater than themselves and a sport steeped in tradition. "CENTERFIELD"

by John C. Fogarty

Entering the season with eleven sophomores and six juniors, this year's JV team had an exceptional season that started off strong. And with the tremendous amount of support coming from the Rebel "faithful", they were able to attract a fantastic crowd everywhere they went, which acted as a catalyst and helped these Rebels feel as if every game had the vital home field advantage. Riding the wave of success they had this year and having a majority of this year's juniors headed to Varsity, the core group of players staying on JV plans to build their relationships as teammates and are looking forward improving their record this upcoming season.

The freshman team started their high school baseball careers off well having a great season, going 10-5. In his first year coaching freshman baseball, Coach Burns was able to build a family unity between the players while at the same time making clear his high expectations. As long as they don't get too complacent, these freshmen are primed to succeed on the diamond next season and beyond.

Track & Field

This year, the Richland Track and Field team stepped it up and delivered the goods as they often do. There were five regional qualifiers and many medals and awards earned throughout the season. The team used continuous improvement as a model to carry on the pride and success in Richland's name. Despite the aspect of individual performance inherent in competing in track and field, the new-comers and returners alike united as one Rebel team. With the coaches pushing to refine the athletes' skills with long practices and intense work-outs, this year's crop of dedicated runners, jumpers and chunkers make our team one to remember.

Our whole lives are defined and shaped by how we act and portray ourselves to the world. Friendships and deeper relationships are made based on the ability to interact with each other. How we act each day is looked upon by every person around us. Who we choose to become and make ourselves out to be can determine our own happiness in life. Whether we realize it or not, our character, and who we are is what helps us become successful human beings in this world. Richland High's Prom Superlatives are chosen based on this idea. Their actions, character and ability to capitalize on their talents themselves are the determining factors in receiving these recognitions.

by kool and the gang

Project celebration

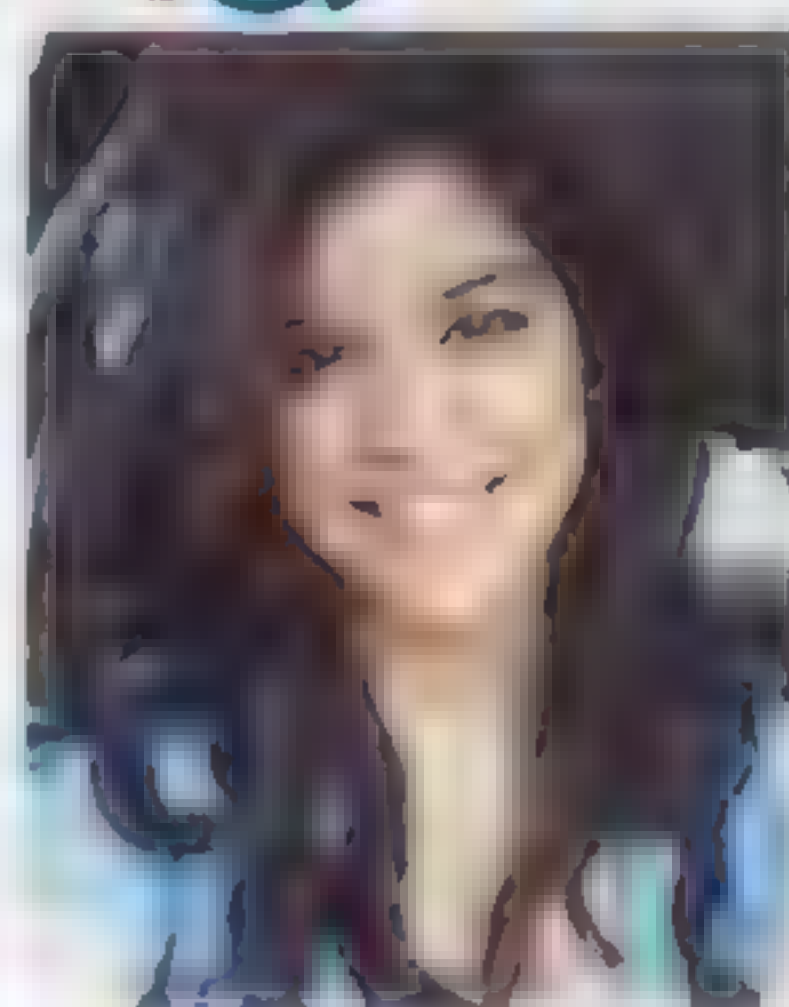

PTA and local fundraisers come together to raise money to provide seniors with safe plans for after prom. Seniors gather at the Coliseum to play games such as blackjack, poker, roulette, karaoke, and to run once again like five year olds through obstacle courses in order to earn points to turn in for prizes. Ipads, tvs, and xbox 360's are some of the many prizes provided by the PTA's fundraising efforts.

Q&A

Did Project celebration live up to your expectations?

Project Celebration was really fun. It gave the Seniors something to do all night. Whether you won prizes or not, it was well worth it and a great end to the night.

honors, concert and symphonic band

Each Richland High School Band is made up of woodwinds, brass, low brass, percussion, and the high brass. Richland High School Honors, Symphonic and Concert Band compete in contests such as All-Region, All-State, Solo, Ensemble and performing at UIL. These are just a small number of events that the Richland High School concert bands participate in. Students practice on a daily basis to perfect their skills and to perform for judges and to entertain their audience.

Q&A

Q What is the most challenging part of being in Concert Band?

A Getting up super early to meet Mr. Green.

Above: Honors Band performing at the last concert of the year. We see students with their own frequency come together to make a sound that truly leaves the audience feeling honored.

This year, the band's percussion students put together a zombie apocalypse themed concert. It starts out with a disease that has different stages and spreads throughout the human race. The percussion students are the zombies who are taken to different islands to be experimented on so that a cure can be found. Stage 4 is the point of no return.

Leon Zajimovic-10 plays the xylophones for his solo.

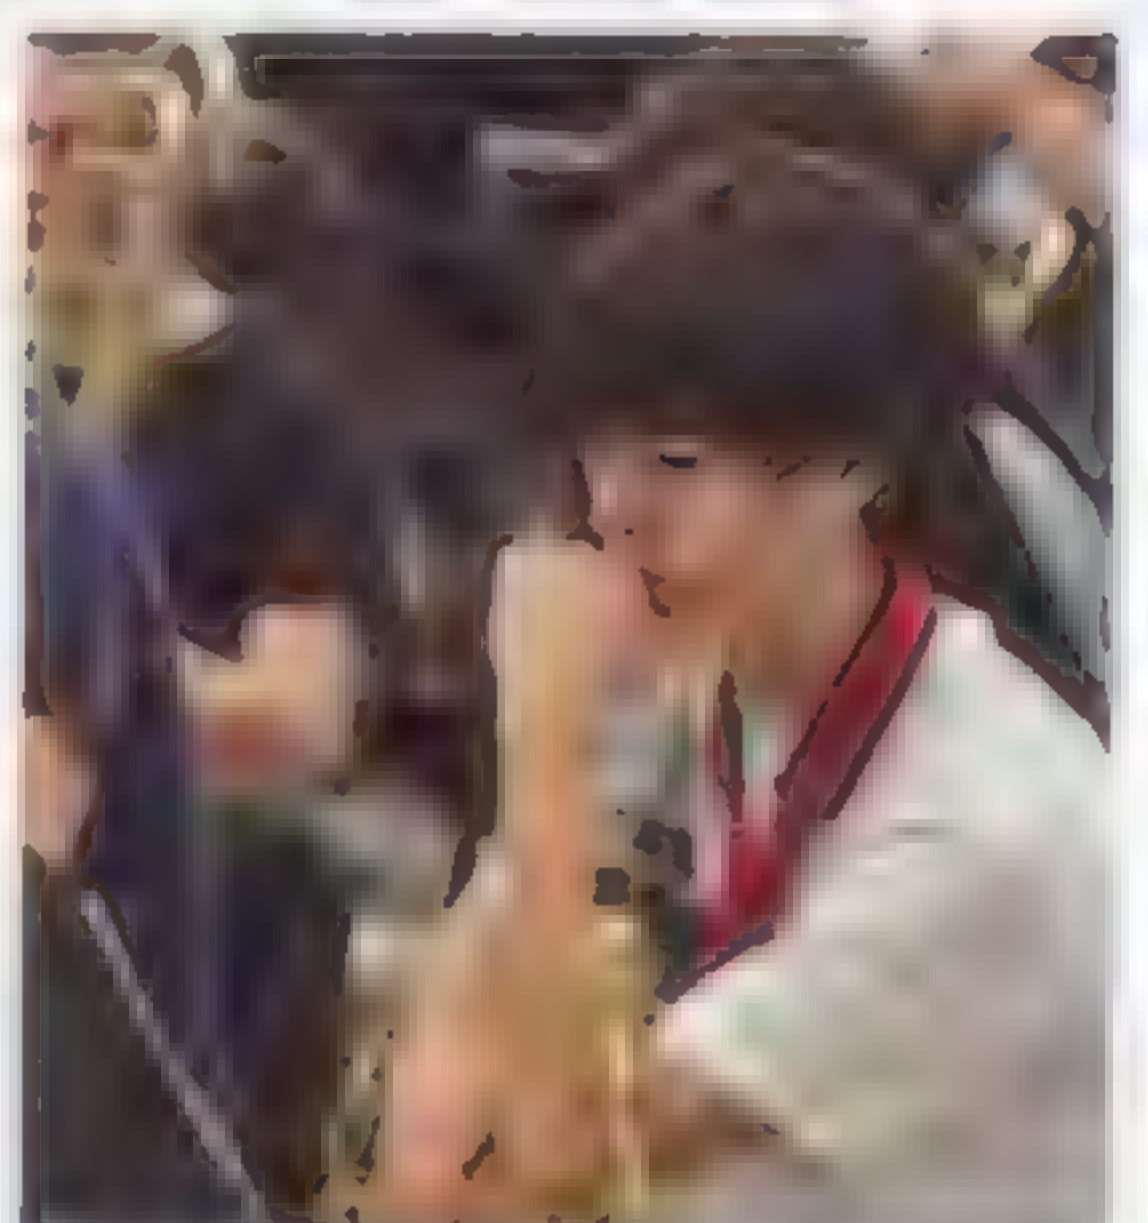

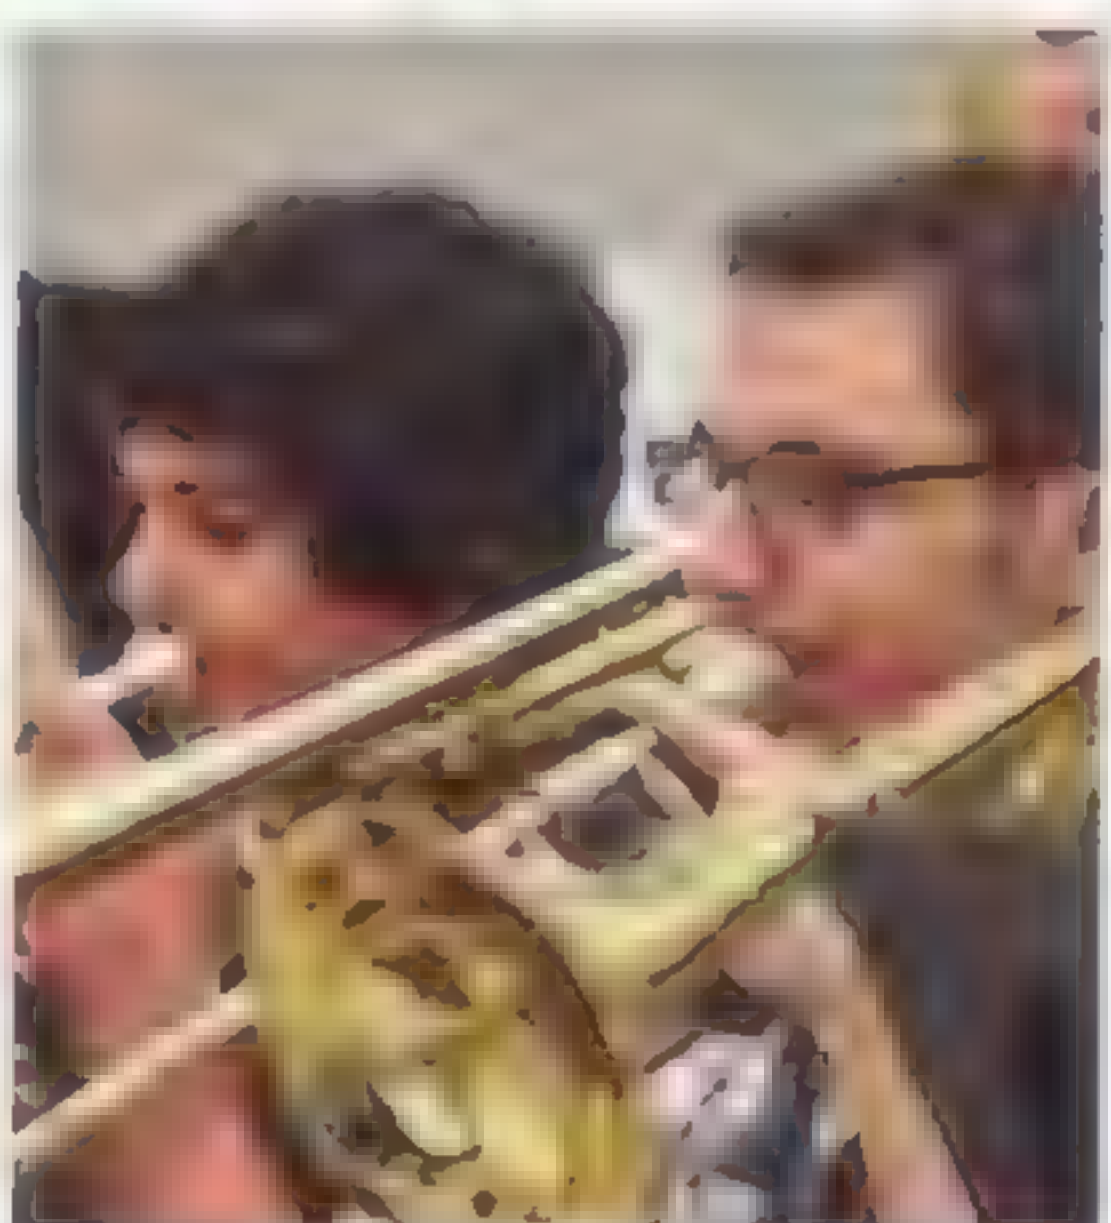

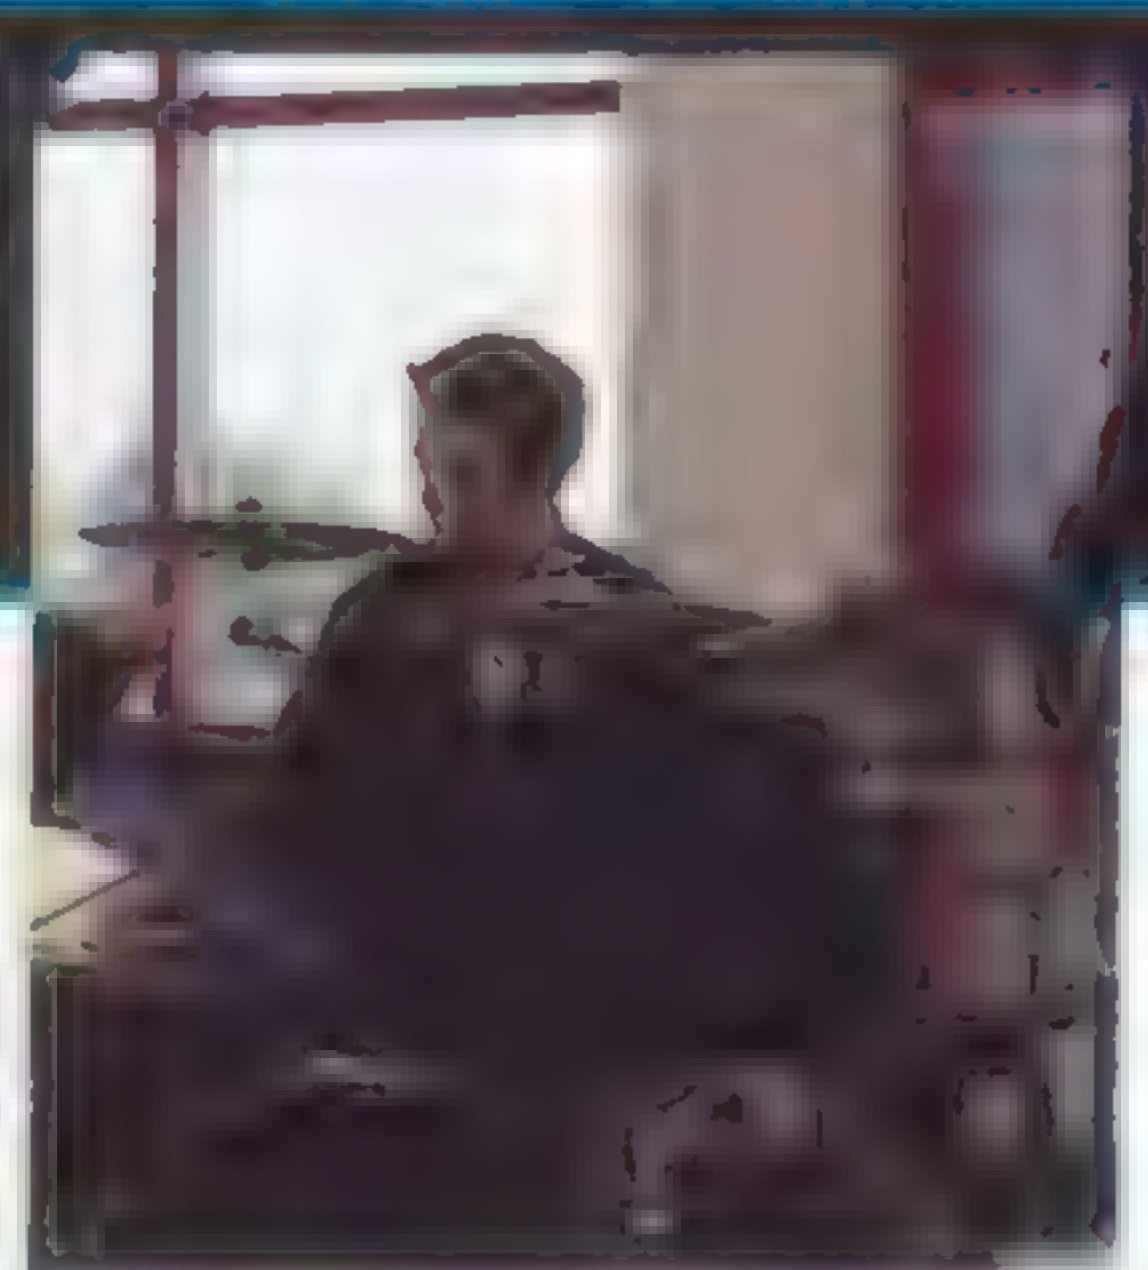

Stephen Symank-11 starts his solo.

JAZZ BAND

Ricardo Castillo-11 and Cole Dapprich-12 enjoy their time at the Spring Swing Auction.

When not competing, playing concerts or at events, the Richland Jazz Band fine tunes their talents.

Being able to travel and perform in Austin, Texas is one of the best things about being in Jazz Band this year."

Creation. Determination. The drum line received awards for the Best Bass Line in the HEB Drum Line Contest, 2nd place for Best Bass Line in the Plano Drum Line Contest, and 4th place for Best Cymbal Line in the Lonestar Drum Line Contest. From holding their own in competition, to providing the booty-shaking beats at the pep-rallies, the drum line creates the foundation for enthusiastic Rebel spirit. Inspiration. There's no substitute.

"My favorite part of drum line is all the people I've met and the friends I've made."

Trey Conner-9

"It feels like family. You can be yourself and it's so much fun. If you ever don't get something there's always someone willing to help you."

Maranda Nelson-10

"Drumline has been the most fun I've had in my entire life."

Adam Buckner-9

Tony Luna-12 warms up before the show.

Nicole Buchanan-12 engulfed in Rebel Spirit while she plays in the stands.

Charlie Anderson-12 keeps tempo and provides low-end "thump" with his bass drum.

Drumline

"Our drum line is like the best ever. We win everything."

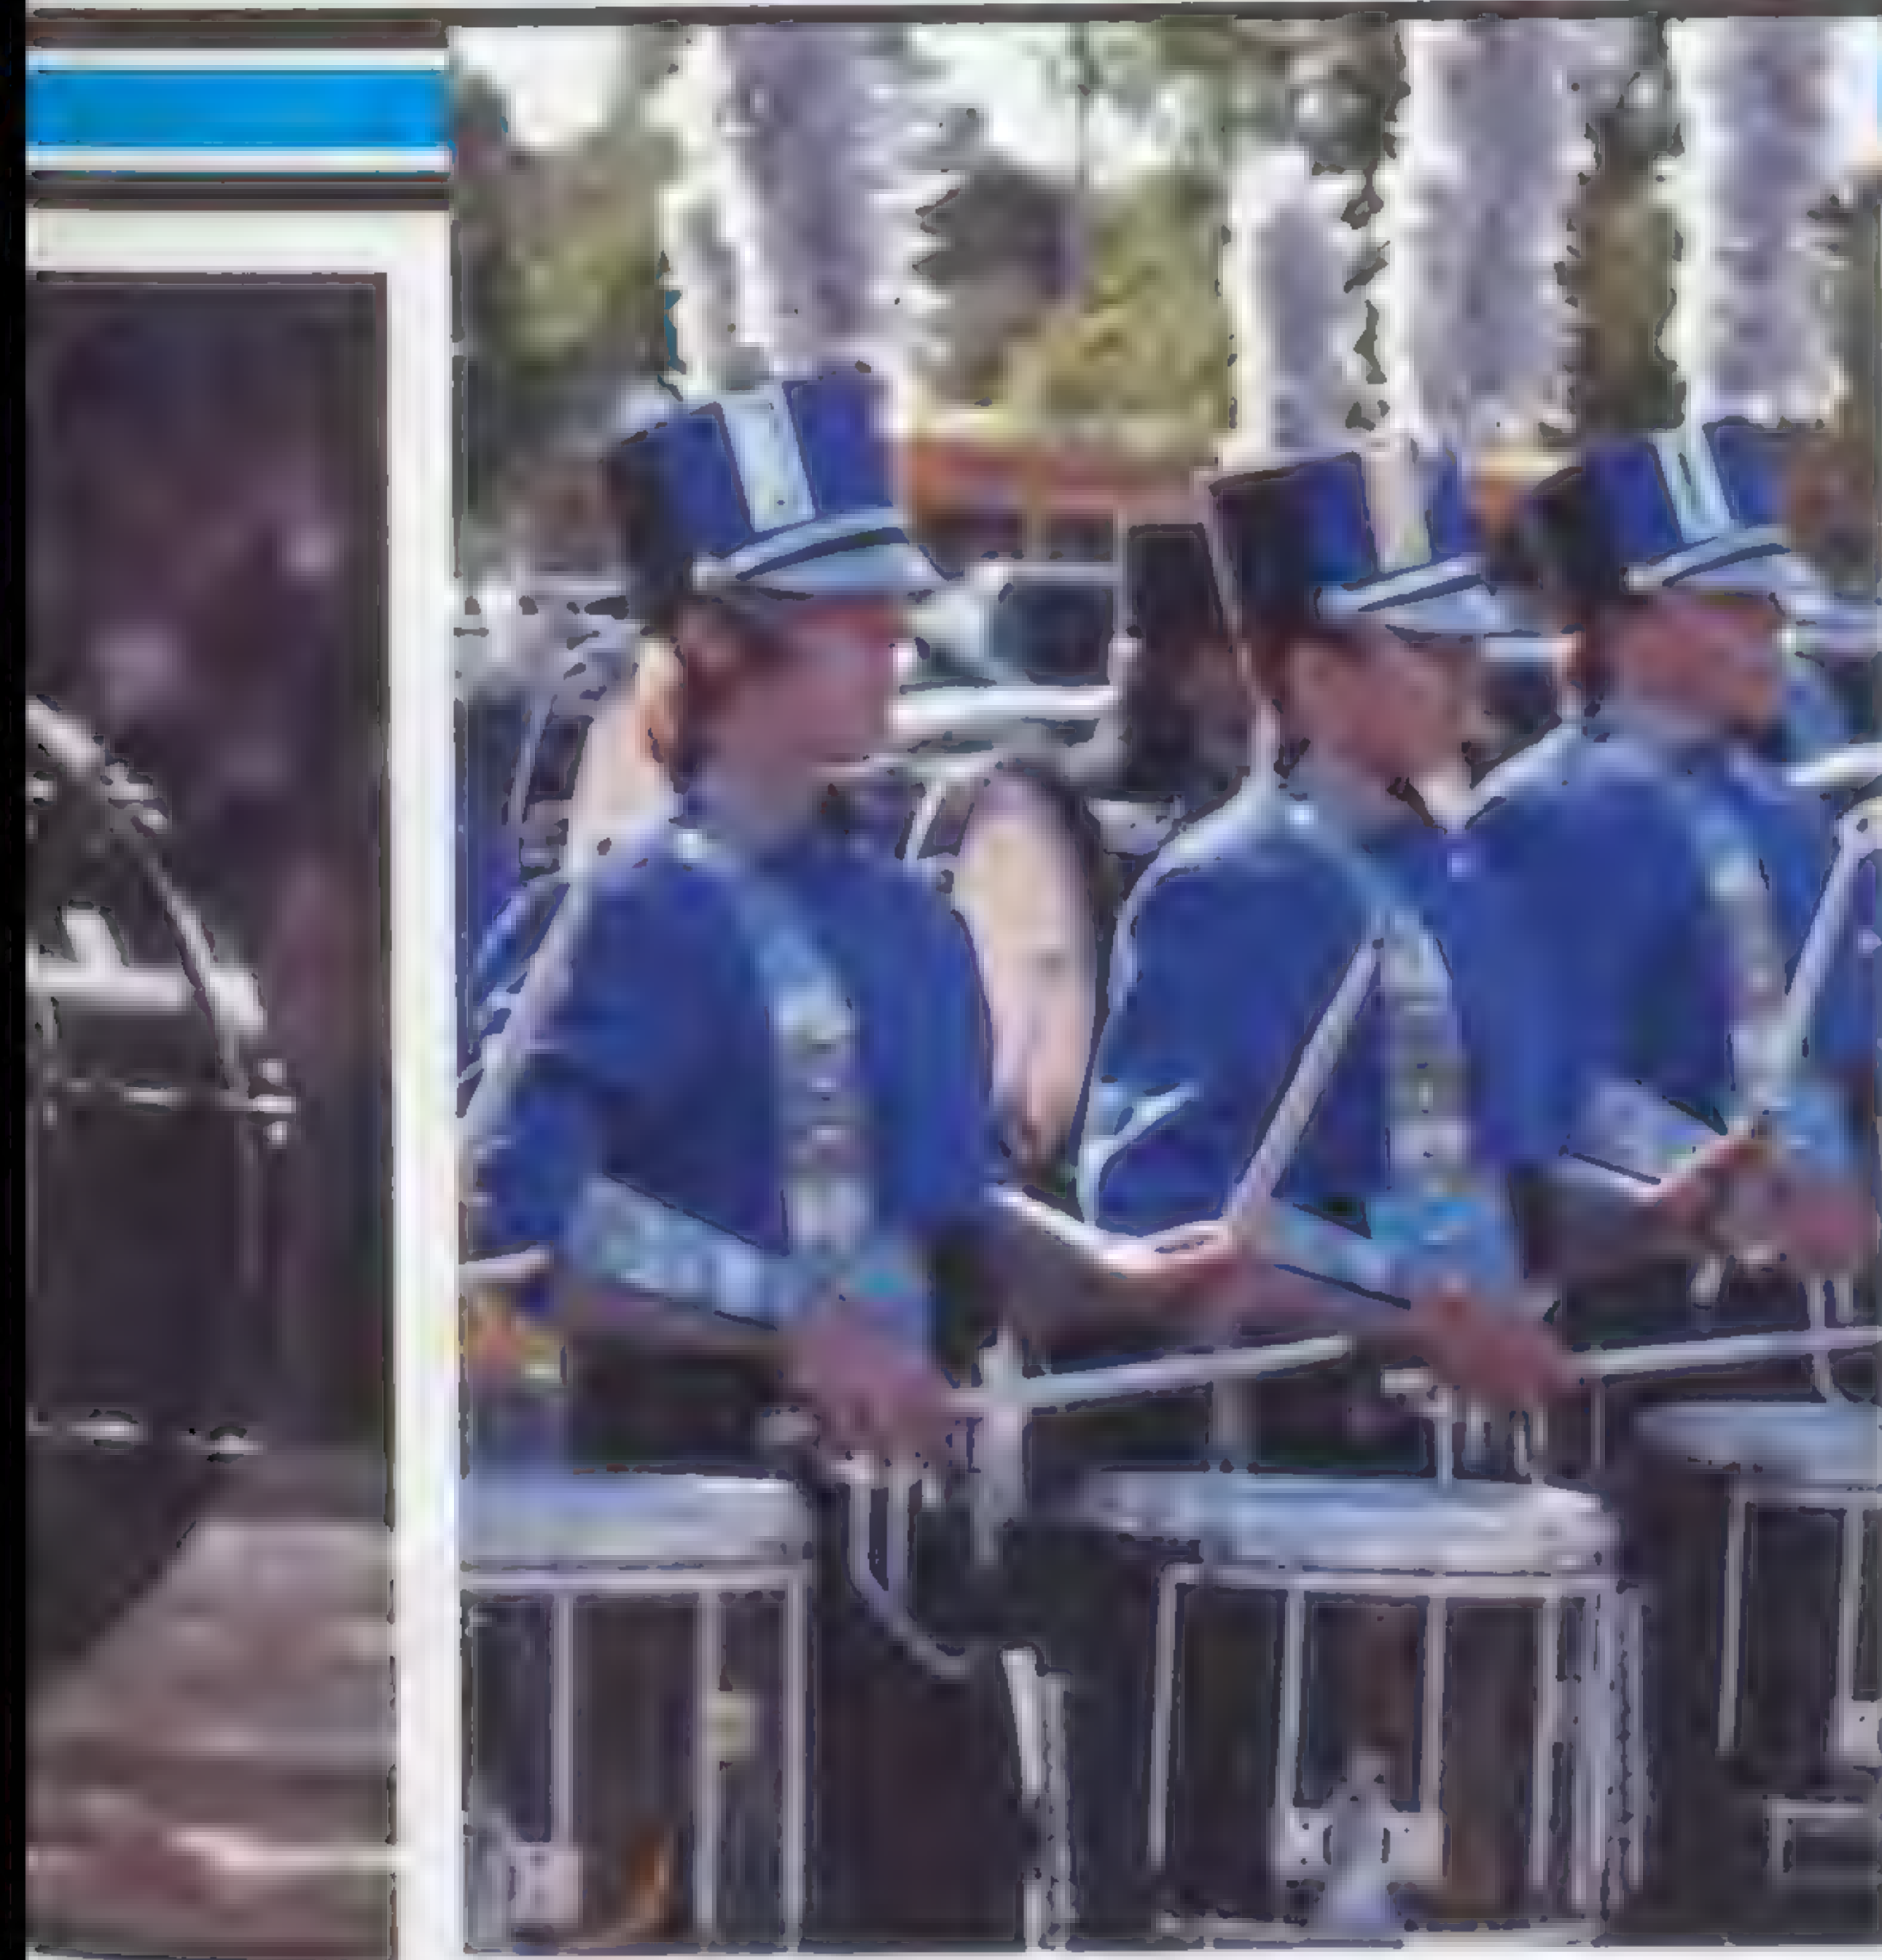

Morgan Caldwell-11

"Drum like Tony."

Kiefer Langley-11

The Theatrebels perform four plays a year. The year began with "R&J", a tragedy which was a cross between "Romeo and Juliet" and "A Midsummer Nights Dream." Following that, "A Christmas Carol" told the story of Edwina Scrooge, an anti-Christmas shrew who was visited by three ghosts in the same night. "A Rebel Woman in Texas" was the One-Act play that the Theatrebels performed in competition against other schools and districts. After all these shows, there was the Freshman Showcase which was performed by the select theatre freshman that gives them the opportunity to show off their acting abilities.

In February, the theatre and choir students put on an enjoyable musical spin off of one of Elvis Presley's greatest hits titled "All Shook Up". Set in the early 1960's, somewhere in mid-America, a mysterious leather jacketed, rule breaker named Chad (Alex Speed-10) helps a small town discover the magic of romance and the power of rock & roll. When asked what the most challenging part of taking on the lead role he responded, "It was a bit intimidating at first, but Mr. Ayers really helped calm me down. Once I calmed down and got the sideburns, it was just a matter of perfecting every little detail I could before we opened." Multiple standing ovations and the buzz after each performance would indicate that this year's musical was a smashing success.

REBELLAIRES

The Rebellaire are a singing group made up of eight boys and eight girls and are considered to be the cream of the crop of Richland's choir department. They sing the National Anthem at pep rallies, and serve the community by entertaining residents of a local nursing home. They also perform at various choir concerts throughout the year and finish the year with the always well-attended Rebellaire Revue. The Rebellaire put in countless hours of hard work during sixth period and after school to make sure their performances are the best they can be.

"All the work was worth the sweat, stress, and tears because it made a lasting impression in my life," says Wesley Vineyard-11.

She says that "Mrs. Neighbors always finds ways to relate the music to life. She often says 'you need to know not only your part, but what you're part of.' She inspires me to to not only be a better musician, but a better person. Basically, when I grow up I want to be Patricia Neighbors."

Southern Belles

The Southern Belles is a choir specifically for underclassmen girls. These girls spend every Wednesday afternoon, from 3:00 to 4:30, singing their hearts out. Not only do the Southern Belles sing at school concerts, but also at pep rallies, middle schools, and at nursing homes during the Christmas holiday. Their hard work and dedication pays off by lifting spirits of those in need.

"I had the time of my life and made friends that I know I will have for a long time!"

Art is the language of form. It is one of the oldest and truest methods of self expression. There are many types of art such as sculpting, painting, abstract drawing, creating collages, and many more. Many works of art have messages within them. Sometimes those messages are explicit and put there intentionally by the artist. Sometimes the message is implicit, and maybe only apparent to the viewer. Lines, shapes and colors can bring out certain emotions and vibes in a person. Creating art is a way to relax or can be used as a way to express feelings by transferring those thoughts onto a blank piece of paper. The amazing thing about art is that there is absolutely no limit to what can be created. The artist is always thinking, imagining and dreaming and there are an unlimited amount of ideas to choose from because almost every second there is a thought, an idea. Getting lost in those ideas is soothing and peaceful. Art is the soul expressing itself. Art is poetry without words.

In 1826, Joseph Nicephore Niepce accomplished something that would soon be part of people's everyday lives. He invented the first permanent photograph. Since then, photography has flourished from being an expensive luxury, to an inexpensive hobby, and even a lifestyle for many. From Kevin Carter's Pulitzer Prize winning photography to a simple snapshot of a best friend, a single photograph has had the ability to impact and change lives all around the world. The annual Talent Show at RHS is a very special event, especially to those who participate. It can be the deciding factor that determines whether a person becomes the next Drake, Chris Brown or even the next Edgar Allen Poe. It could be the one thing that gives them the right push to pursue their dreams. A talent show at Humes High School in Memphis, Tennessee produced one of the most known singers ever, Elvis Presley. It was the first time he experienced winning something related to his passion. In high-school, it's easy to think more about having fun than thinking about the future. A talent show is an opportunity to have fun with doing what you love for recognition. It's a chance to stray away from the ordinary. It opens a door that could lead to a life full of artful self-expression and is what can give young lives an inspirational touch as it did for a young Elvis Presely. It is an opportunity to find a unique place in this world and truly be happy.

LEADERSHIP

The ability to lead can be an elusive quality for an individual to attain, but at Richland High School, there is no shortage of students ready to step it up and live their lives as examples, rather than as cautionary tales. Whether it's being captain of a sport, president of a club, or simply helping out in the community, Richland offers many opportunities for students to show their potential as leaders. Student Council and P.A.L.S. are at the forefront of organizations with the sole mission of developing their members into the leaders that they are capable of becoming.

Student Council is an organization that focuses on being the voice of the student body. They help plan events such as the Powder Puff Football games, host fund raisers, and volunteer their time for various causes within the community.

P.A.L.S. (Peer Assistance Leadership Skills) is a class in which students acquire leadership skills by helping students with special needs during their recreation time, tutoring kids at elementary schools, helping out around the school, or just being there for anyone in need.

"I'll stand by you"

by THE PRETENDERS

Fundraising is a huge part of what Richland does to help raise money for extracurricular activities and those in need within our community. A majority of Richland's fundraising came from students going out, using their creativity and taking initiative. Restaurants such as Bosses Pizza, Applebees, Ihop and Chick-Fil-A contributed by offering customers deals in which the proceeds went to organizations at RHS. This collaboration is win-win for all involved.

STUCO members Katie Cope-12 and Canyon Brock-11 help with canned food drive.

Skylar Castro-10 and Katie Jones-10 supporting softball.

"I liked helping people cause it made me feel better." Skylar Castro-10

Sarah Mendoza-12 and Cristen Mendoza-10 share spoons full of ice cream. Pink ice-cream was sold during lunches to benefit breast cancer research.

"It is good to help, because some are less fortunate than others"

- Anthony Jackson-12

"Fundraising impacts all of our lives, even if we aren't aware of it."

- Canyon Brock-11

Alden Thompson-11 serves pizza to raise money for softball.

Meddie McBride-10 raises money for softball by serving customers at Bosses Pizza. "I like being apart of something bigger, and helping others."

Richland students pink with pride.

Nyka Wood-10 serving her father and trying not to spill the drink while raising money for softball. "I love softball so much and I will do anything to raise money for it."

Graduation

Well class of 2012, this is it. We made it. The past thirteen years have all accumulated to this moment, our graduation day. After today, we will all embark on our own individual journeys and leave this place we call home. For some of us this is scary, for others it is exciting, but nevertheless it is important to reflect and cherish the memories we've made along the way. A wise woman once said that "a memory is a way of holding onto things you love, the things you are, and the things you never want to lose." The memories of our childhood have shaped us into the people we are today, so it's imperative that we never lose them. With this in mind, I would like to recall the highlights of our school years. Remember our first day of kindergarten when our mommies videoed us walking into school with either spiffy comb-overs or huge bows on our head. Remember boldly standing up on the risers in PTA meetings singing every song off key. Remember when we anxiously awaited field day every year, so we could whoop all the other classes in tug-of-war.

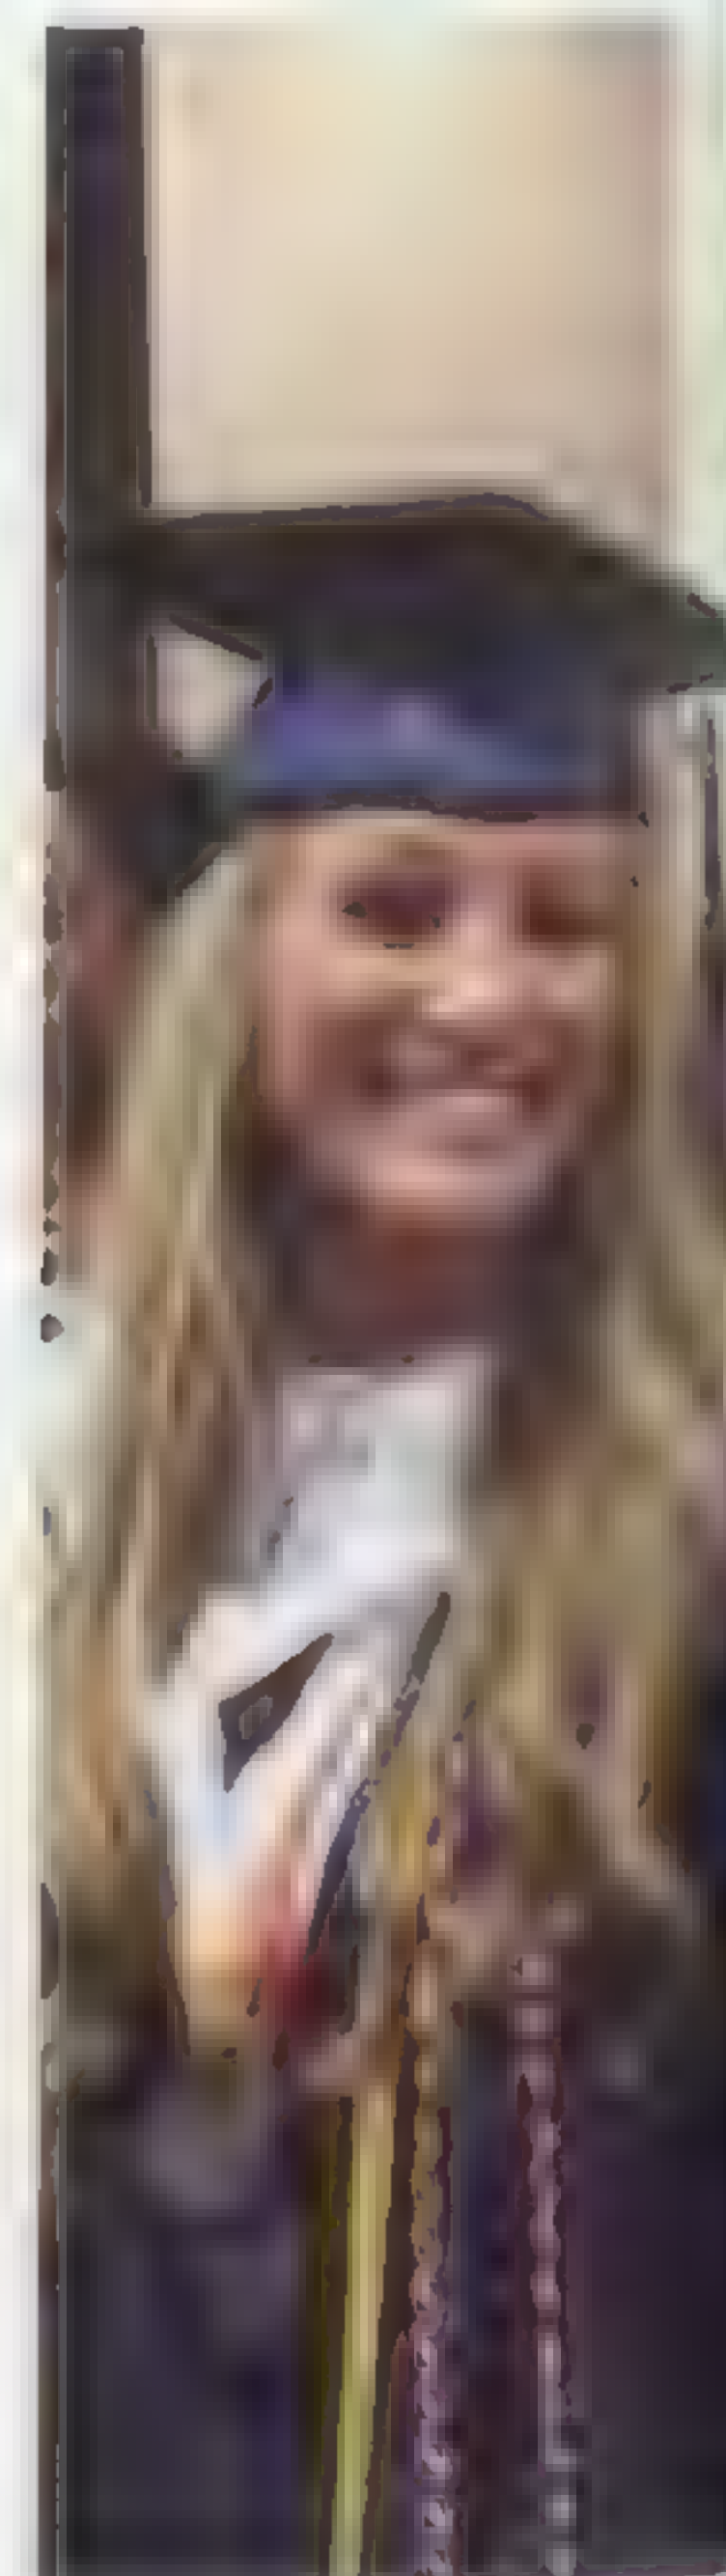

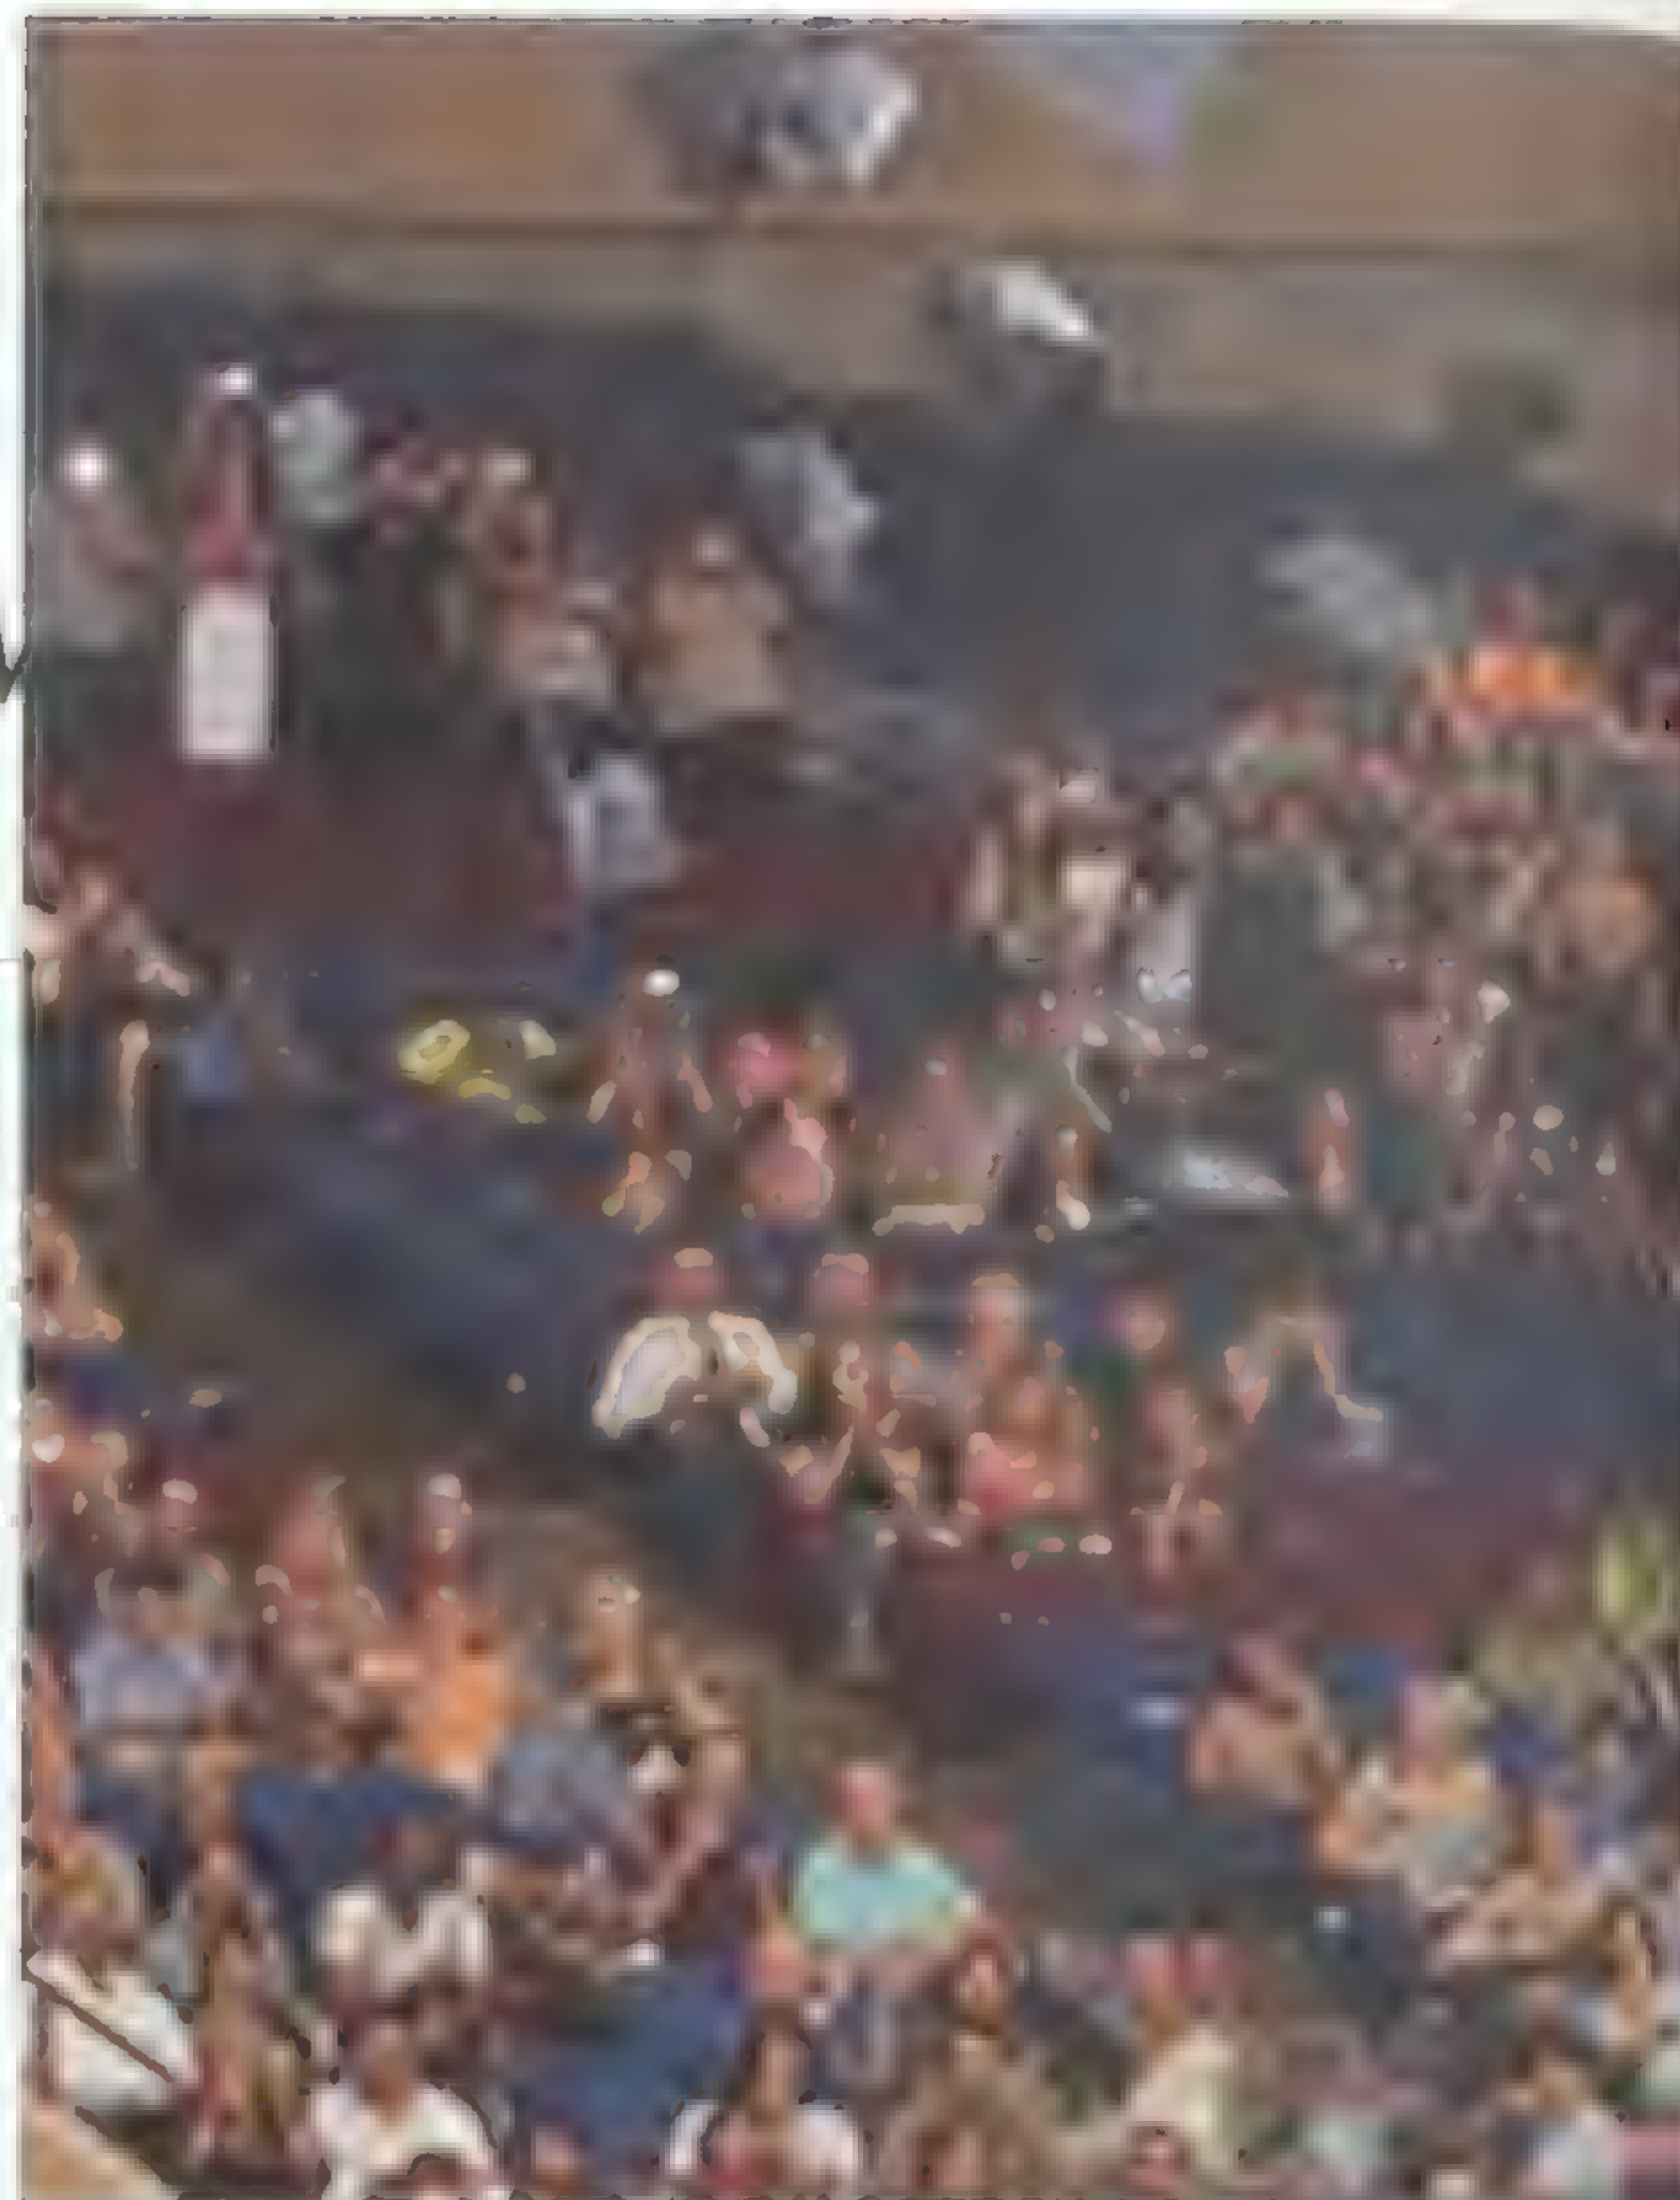

Then before we knew it, middle school came along and so did the co-ed birthday parties. But don't be fooled, the boys would all stay on one side of the room and the girls would be on the other. Remember getting to go to Hurricane Harbor every summer with band. Remember the activity nights where we would play basketball or dance all night long, at least until 9:30, when our parents came to pick us up. Remember when we thought we were the big hot shot eighth graders only to find out we would become the little fish in the sea next year.

Once high school came, we created memories by the tenfold. Remember the food fight we managed to start, but not get away with freshmen year. Remember driving out of the neighborhood alone for the first time, while our parents stayed at home praying for our safety. What about first dates, all-nighters finishing projects, or going to midnight premieres with friends. Or how about the wild crowds we attracted at every basketball game, home or away. Remember that feeling of stepping out under those Friday night lights for the first time, whether it was as a player, marcher, dancer, or fan. The list goes on and on, because these times have been the most fun-filled, hectic, and exciting years of our lives. These are the moments we will carry with us and cherish, to tell our children one day.

As I recall all of these memories, I would like to take a minute to sincerely thank all those who have been a part of them. Thank you teachers, coaches, and administrators: ya'll have been absolutely wonderful. I am so thankful for all the time you have invested in every one of us. Thank you Mom, Dad, and the rest of my family for being the greatest support system I could ever imagine. Thank you for raising me in a loving Christian home, and sacrificing every day for me. I would also like to thank God for all the blessings he has given me. And lastly, thank you graduates for making these memories with me.

With that being said, I would like to leave all of you with a final quote before we embark on our individual journeys and pave our paths out of good ol' North Richland Hills. Catherine of Sienna once stated, "If you are what you should be, you will set the whole world on fire. It is a strange thing, but I have noticed that even a blind man knows when he is in the presence of a great light. The world needs you to be such a light." Class of 2012, you will do great things. Of this, I am certain. Find your calling, and as Catherine of Sienna said, set the world on fire with your light and passion. The past thirteen years have been filled with the greatest memories and I am honored to have been able to call you all teammates, classmates, but most importantly friends. Thank you for being a part of my life and letting me be a part of yours.

Sandy,

We are so proud of you. It has not always been easy, but you made it. You are a blessing to us. We want you to remember the simple truths as you go through life... "Be strong in the Lord and never give up hope. You're gonna do great things. I already know God's got His hand on you so don't live life in fear. Forgive and forget but don't forget why you're here. Take your time and pray" -Sidewalk Prophets. We can't wait to see what the future holds for you. You are a wonderful daughter! We love you!

Mark 12:30

Michael Novak

"For I know the plans I have for you," declares the Lord, "plans to prosper you and not to harm you, plans to give you hope and a future. Then you will call on me and come and pray to me, and I will listen to you. You will seek me with all your heart, Jeremiah 29:11-13

We are so proud of the wonderful young woman you have become. As you embark on the next chapter of your life, this is our prayer for you: "Be anxious for nothing, but in everything by prayer and supplication, with thanksgiving, let your requests be made known to God; and the peace of God, which surpasses all understanding, will guard your hearts and minds through Christ Jesus." - Philippians 4:6-7
